THE WORLD'S LARGEST MOTORS, AND AN EVEN LARGER FORCE OF WILL..

TO CHANGE THE FUTURE AND FATE OF THE PEOPLE

THE PALAMURU-RANGAREDDY LIFT IRRIGATION PROJECT

For decades, the southern part of Telangana has been one of the driest and most ignored regions in the country. With hope even scarcer than water, the only option left for people, for years, was to migrate. Then, everything changed, with the formation of Telangana.

Under the leadership of the Hon'ble Chief Minister of Telangana, Sri K. Chandra Sekhar Rao, the government started a slew of irrigation projects in Bhima, Kalwakurthy, Koilsagar etc. The migration slowly reversed. And then, came the most audacious of them all – the Palamuru-Rangareddy Lift Irrigation Project, that lifted the Krishna River water from Srisailam, at a cost of Rs.50,000 Crs. to quench a thirst that's gone ignored for generations, and change the very fortune and the fate of an entire people.

Wrong reporting not crime: SC

Observes in context of plaints that led to FIR against Editors Guild

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

MAKING a false statement in an article by the media does not amount to the offence of promoting enmity between different groups, the Supreme Court remarked on Friday.

Chief Justice of India D Y Chandrachud made the observation in the context of complaints that led to the registration of an FIR against the Editors Guild of India by the Manipur police over its fact-finding report on the riots. The court went on to say that the report did not contain even a whisper of the ingredients of the offences alleged against them.

Pointing out that the complaint was a counter-narrative of the government, the CJI said, "You say every para is false. Making a false statement in an article is not an offence of 153A. The statements may be incorrect. Incorrect statements are made by journalists across the country, will you prosecute all?"

Further protecting the guild's president Sema Mustafa and three journalists Sanjay Kapoor, Seema Guha and Bharat Bhushan from coercive action, the bench asked the complainant to file his response on why the case should not be quashed.

The CJI said, "Mr Solicitor General, the Army writes to the guild. Army says that there was partisan reporting. They go on ground and submit a report. They may be right or wrong. This is what free speech is all about."

FRUGAL FESTIVAL

AS DROUGHT LOOMS, A NO-FRILLS DASARA THIS YEAR

ASHWINI M SRIPAD @ Bengaluru

WITH the state reeling under severe drought in most taluks, the government has cut down unnecessary expenditure for Mysuru Dasara, which was to be celebrated with great pomp.

As per the official declaration, 195 of 237 taluks in Karnataka are drought-hit, which include 161 severely drought-hit taluks. In 2022, the state government had organised a grand Dasara that cost over Rs 26 crore, including events, lighting and other expenditure, the first such celebration after the pandemic hit.

Social Welfare Minister HC Mahadevappa, who is also Mysuru district minister, told The New Indian Express that when a high-level committee decided to organise Dasara in a big way in July this year, the state was not facing drought. Now the situation has changed, and the focus is on reducing unnecessary expenditure. "We will cut down expenses wherever we can. I will discuss it with Chief Minister Siddaramiah and decide," he said. Asked if the government was planning a simple Dasara, he said the festival would be neither grand nor simple, and the regular rituals and traditions would be held. "It will be a moderate Dasara," he said.

In Mysuru, preparations have already begun, and elephants are being trained for the big day, especially the elephant that carries the howdah. The government has finalised noted cinema music director Hamsalekha as chief guest to inaugurate the Dasara celebrations on October 15.

The annual Kannada Sahitya Sammelana, organised by the Kannada Sahitya Parishat and scheduled to be held at Mandya, and Hampi Utsav at Vijayanagar have been postponed due to the drought. People from various sections are also criticising the government for organising a grand Dasara when the state is staring at drought and farmers are in distress.

HAL-made Sukhois among ₹45K cr worth procurement cleared

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ New Delhi

UNION defence minister Rajnath Singh-led Defence Acquisition Council on Friday cleared nine procurement proposals worth ₹45,000 crore for the three armed forces. All these procurements will be made from Indian vendors, giving a major push to the Make in India initiative.

The procurement proposals include 12 Su-30MKI fighter jets as well as Dhruvastra air-to-surface missiles and upgrade of Dornier aircraft. "The AoN (Acceptance of Necessity) for procurement of 12 Su-30 MKI Aircraft with associated equipment from Hindustan Aeronautics Ltd (HAL) was also accorded," a defence ministry statement read.

The new Sukhoi fighter jets will be a big boost to the IAF's dwindling fleet. At present, the force is down to 30 combat squadrons against the sanctioned strength of 42 squadrons. A normal squadron of the IAF comprises 18 fighters.

Sukhoi-30MKI is a long range multi-role fighter aircraft, which is integrated with potent weapons and systems including the indigenous Astra and Brahmos missiles.

Among the other proposals of the Air Force that were cleared include avionic upgradation of the Dornier aircraft. The procurement of Dhruvastra short range air-to-surface missile will help the IAF strike ground targets with precision.

For the Army, the DAC has cleared the proposal to procure Light Armoured Multipurpose Vehicles (LAMV) and Integrated Surveillance and Targeting System (ISAT-S).

NEXT-GEN SURVEY VESSELS FOR NAVY

The DAC also approved procurement of next generation survey vessels for the Indian Navy, which will greatly enhance its capabilities in performing hydrographic operations

Sale, immersion of PoP idols banned during Ganesha fest

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

A few days ahead of Ganesha Chaturthi, the Department of Environment, Ecology and Forests on Friday banned the manufacture, sale and immersion of Plaster of Paris (PoP) idols to prevent water pollution and damage to marine ecology.

The order comes after a meeting between Forest Minister Eshwar Khandre and other stakeholders. It was attended by district commissioners, CEOs, heads of urban local bodies, and panchayats. When PoP idols are immersed, those with chemical paints leave an oil layer on the water's surface, plummeting oxygen levels and killing fish.

Khandre told TNIE that in 2016, the state government had banned the manufacture of PoP idols. The central government in 2020 banned the transportation, storage, sale and immersion of these idols. Now, the state government has banned the sale, manufacture and immersion of such idols, with orders against transportation already in place.

As per the order, a committee will be formed comprising SPs, environmental officers, officials of the transport department, commercial taxes, education department, CEOs, panchayat members, and heads of local bodies, to monitor commercial units and also where the idols would be installed. "Once the idol is installed, nothing can be done as religious sentiments are involved and we do not want to hurt sentiments. Hence, all measures are being taken to ensure that PoP idols are not installed. Although we are a bit late, the process has started," Khandre said.

A senior KSPCB official, on condition of anonymity, said when the government has issued orders banning sale, manufacture and immersion, the installation also becomes a part of it. So far, cases have been booked under Section 24 of the Water Act, 1974, and Section 15 of the Environment Protection Act. After the order, cases will be booked under IPC Section 108 with raids on manufacturers and those stocking material will continue through the year, he said.

CHANDRAYAAN-1 DATA

EARTH'S MAGNETOTAIL SWISH GAVE MOON WATER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

A team led by researchers from the University of Hawaii (UoH) at Manoa in the US, while using India's Chandrayaan-1 mission's remote sensing data, found that high-energy electrons from Earth could be playing a crucial role in water formation on the Moon.

They have found that these electrons are from the Earth's plasma sheet, reaching the Moon when the latter is in the magnetotail of the Earth with the Sun on one side and the Moon on the other side of the Earth. The magnetotail is the broad elongated extension of the earth's magnetosphere away from the sun, and the Moon comes inside this during its revolutions around the Earth.

Solar wind is known to bombard the Moon's surface with high-energy particles, protons, and that is thought to be one of the main ways for water formation on the Moon. However, that happens only when the Moon is outside of the Earth's magnetotail, which protects the Moon from the solar wind.

ANALYSING M3's DATA

The researchers analysed data gathered by Chandrayaan-1's Moon Mineralogy Mapper (M3), an imaging spectrometer. M3 had detected water molecules in the lunar dust plume generated through Chandrayaan-1's Moon Impact Probe. It was a breakthrough discovery on the presence of water and water hydroxyl on the Moon's surface

Shuai Li, assistant researcher at the UH Manoa School of Ocean, explained: "Inside the magnetotail, there are almost no solar wind protons and water formation was expected to drop to nearly zero." The researchers assessed the changes in water formation as the Moon traversed through Earth's magnetotail, which includes the plasma sheet.

"To my surprise, the remote sensing observations showed that the water formation in Earth's magnetotail is almost identical to the time when the Moon was outside of the Earth's magnetotail," Li said. "This indicates that, in the magnetotail, there may be additional formation processes or new sources of water not directly associated with the implantation of solar wind protons. In particular, radiation by high energy electrons exhibits similar effects as the solar wind protons." P8

Kavitha gets 10-day breather from ED

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

TELANGANA Chief Minister K Chandrashekar Rao's daughter K Kavitha, who was summoned by Enforcement Directorate to appear for questioning on Friday in the Delhi excise policy scam, got a breather as the probe agency told the Supreme Court it would not insist on her appearance for 10 days.

"She has appeared twice. We'll extend the date by another 10 days if she wants," Additional Solicitor General S V Raju, appearing for ED, said.

Taking note of his oral assurance, the bench comprising justices S K Kaul and Sudhanshu Dhulia decided to take up Kavitha's plea challenging the summons on September 26.

Referring to the restriction on police officers under Section 160 CrPC against summoning women or questioning them at a place other than their homes,

Kavitha had also sought certain protections during questioning and directions to that effect to the police officers. She had also raised the issue of ED summoning women to appear in its office.

Karanth Layout allotment from Dec 1st week: SC panel

Of the 34,000 sites, 12,000 will be made available to the public

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE allotment of sites in the Dr K Shivaram Karanth Layout will begin in the first week of December, said Jayakar Jerome, one of the members of the Supreme Court appointed Justice A V Chandrashekhar committee (JCC) that is supervising its formation. The Layout will have 34,000 sites overall, out of which 12,000 will be made available to the public.

Justice A V Chandrashekhar, former Karnataka High Court judge heads the committee with S T Ramesh, former Director General and Inspector General as the other member. The JCC was formed by the Supreme Court through an order dated December 3, 2020.

Jerome, former BDA Commissioner said, "Numbering of the sites have already commenced for 29,000 sites. There are 4,500 corner sites which will be auctioned as per rules. Priority would be given to landlosers who will get over 15,000 sites. The general public would get 12,000 sites while those who had revenue sites and have applied to the District Judge Committee will be allotted 2,000 sites."

The BDA had issued a preliminary notification on December 30, 2008 to acquire 3,546 acres and 12 guntas of land for formation of the layout. A series of litigations followed and the Apex Court ordered the BDA to form the layout in August 2018. However, it had done nothing until the Supreme Court formed this team, charged a media release issued by the team.

Justice Chandrashekhar said, "Based on the recommendations made by the JCC, the SC has regularised 5171 buildings out of 7724 applications received. 13 private layouts have been regularised and 11 institutions okayed. All regularised ones have been issued Regularisation Certificates by the BDA. For the first time, Entitlement Certificates have been issued to farmers as proof of the land surrendered."

Press meet held at BDA office on Friday. At the Centre is Justice A V Chandrashekhar. He is flanked by Jayakar Jerome (his right) and ST Ramesh (his left).

Official's transfer revoked

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

A MOVE by the State government to transfer a top Bangalore Development Authority (BDA) official and post him in a coveted position in the Revenue Department has recently backfired. After the Supreme Court-appointed Justice A V Chandrashekhar Committee wrote to the Chief Secretary that they were violating the apex court's directive, the transfer order was revoked and the official now continues with the BDA.

This is the second such instance when the government has shot itself in the foot over transfer of a senior official working for the Dr Shivaram Karanth Layout.

Dr Harish Naik, Special Commissioner of Land Acquisition (SLAO) in the BDA was working with the Committee which is supervising the layout formation.

"Naik managed to get himself transferred out of the BDA by approaching the government. The Department of Personnel and Administrative Reforms (DPAR) deputed him to the post of Assistant Commissioner, South, in the Revenue department over a month ago," a BDA source said.

When the Committee got to know of the transfer, it wrote to Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma explaining that the act amounted to violation of the order issued on August 19, 2021 by the highest court in the country, which said that no engineer or land acquisition officer involved in the Layout formation could be transferred without the Court's consent.

"The Chief Secretary then wrote to the DPAR ordering it to revoke the transfer. Naik continues as the SLAO presently," another source said.

Naik conceded to this reporter, "I had completed three years at BDA and my role in acquiring land has been completed. So, I approached the government asking for a change of profile. I was transferred to the Revenue department but before I could assume charge the order was cancelled."

"We routinely issue transfer orders and this was issued by us inadvertently. We have been very careful when transferring officials working for the Karanth Committee and always redirect to them all the requests that come to us," said an official. On August 31, 2021, just a few weeks after the SC order, the State government transferred the No. 2 in the BDA set-up, Engineer Member H R Shantharajanna, who was supervising the Karanth layout formation, and posted him as the Chief Engineer of the Hemavathi Project in Hassan.

'Hoovu Habba', 'Pete Habba' to draw tourists to Vibrant B'luru

MOHAMMED YACOOB @Bengaluru

THE 'Vibrant Bengaluru' committee headed by IAS officer Jayaram Raipura has come out with the final draft of its concept and has proposed a cultural calendar and cultural wing under the Bruhat Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP).

Speaking to TNIE, Jayaram Raipura said Bengaluru has everything but a cultural calendar, hence the committee has proposed to have a cultural calendar keeping in mind the seasons and festivals.

"January to March, the focus will be on the lake and flower festival. A lake festival will be held, as there are over 150 lakes in BBMP limits. March, the beginning of spring, will witness the 'Hoovu Habba', the festival of flowers, as the city has over 1,000 parks and apart from that, wherever trees and saplings are there, you will see different flowers.

Similarly, in October, the formation of old and new markets will be celebrated under the 'Pete Habba' concept while 'Ooru and Grama Devathegala Habba' will be held in November and December to mark festivals that are celebrated in each area of Bengaluru," he added.

"Art, literature, lake festivals, heritage walks and iconic markets, all key aspects of the city will get prominence as they have immense potential to draw tourists. The same will be branded for the 'Vibrant Bengaluru', a part of 'Brand Bengaluru' concept," he continued.

Further, he added that the concept is the brainchild of Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar, fully backed by Chief Minister Siddaramaiah. The committee consisting of experts in various fields held discussions on suggestions from the public before coming up with the final draft. About 10,000 suggestions were received from the public and the draft was prepared in partnership with Srishti School of Art, Design and Technology.

To see these concepts gain momentum and to ensure that they are organised and executed properly, a 'Cultural Wing' has also been proposed in BBMP, he said. Besides, four auditoriums in different corners of the city are also proposed to give a boost to art, and to give a facelift to existing Palike-owned cultural auditoriums in the CBD area.

Experts suggest cluster schools for Brand Bengaluru education

At a seminar organised under Brand Bengaluru for Education, experts recommended cluster schools and colleges, promoting Kannada language in primary classes, free education, strengthening alumni network, digitization of classrooms, and technical upskilling of teachers among others, to improve the sector. Venugopal K R, Bangalore University Vice-Chancellor advocated the need to develop virtual schools and universities. He said that teachers need to be trained, and should be allowed to move to cluster schools instead of moving students. K E Radhakrishna, an educationist, said there should be three focus areas to make 'Brand Bengaluru' work for education. "We need to combine tradition and modernity. Schools and colleges need to promote and become hubs of culture and sports, making them multidisciplinary."

HEALTHCARE

PHANA should adopt nearby PHCs

NAMRATA SINDWANI @Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) health officials have asked private hospitals to join hands with them, to extend specialist healthcare facilities to primary health centres (PHC).

BBMP Special Commissioner (for health), Dr KV Trilok Chandra has asked the Private Hospitals and Nursing Home Association (PHANA) to formulate a system wherein each private hospital would extend their services to the nearby PHC. He suggested each private hospitals to adopt a nearby PHC, and provide expert advise to reduce referral to the government-run secondary and tertiary care centres.

Under the Brand Bengaluru initiative, private hospitals will discuss how to facilitate PHCs with specialist doctors and reduce the government's burden.

Despite hundreds of PHCs and Namma Clinics in the city, citizens prefer private hospitals and nursing institutions due to lack of facilities in these PHCs and clinics. The major government-run hospitals in Bengaluru like Victoria Hospital, Bowring and Lady Curzon Hospital and Jayanagar General Hospital continue to remain overburdened.

CITIZENS VOUCH TO INCULCATE CONSTITUTIONAL VALUES

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE

WITH the aim of educating citizens about the Indian Constitution and its values, multiple organisations and citizens of different social and ethnic groups read the Preamble of the Indian Constitution in different parts of the city.

"Although it has been 74 years since the Constitution of this country came into force, the Constitution has not found its way to every home and every heart," read a joint press release issued by Bahutva Karnataka and Tamate Karnataka on International Day of Democracy observed on September 15.

Several people outside Halasuru and Jayanagar metro station, Fraser Town, Bakshi Garden, Constitution Circle (Yeshwanthpur), read the Preamble. Along with it, street plays on honour killing were performed and songs related to fraternity and constitutional values, were sung. It included the values of justice, liberty, equality, dignity and fraternity, and upholding them is the essence of constitutional values.

Citing Kerala's scheme for constitutional literacy, Karnataka was also recommended to conduct workshops educating people about its values. Citizens highlighted how inequality continues to be prevalent in the society as the caste system and patriarchy is still deeply rooted. They appreciated the government's guarantee schemes benefiting women, but simultaneously criticised them for utilising funds allocated for minority schemes.

Bangalore University Vice Chancellor, Professor Dr. Jayakar SM also read out the Constitutional Preamble to teachers, non-teaching staff and students of the university in front of the administrative block of Jnanabharathi Campus. Since the day coincided with Engineer's Day, even Chief Minister Siddaramaiah read the Preamble in an event highlighting how both are important to build a better society.

On September 12, Sheshadripuram police registered a complaint against anchor Chaudhary of Aaj Tak News Channel and TV Today Network Limited, for allegedly spreading misinformation with the intention to promoting hatred.

A complaint was filed by S Shivakumar, assistant administrative officer, Karnataka Minorities Development Corporation Limited, based on which an FIR was filed.

According to the FIR, Chaudhary stated during a TV programme that the benefit of 50% subsidy, a maximum of ₹3 lakh, is being given only to the minority communities if they want to buy taxis, goods vehicles and autorickshaw by getting bank loans.

The scheme was in fact not only under the Minorities Development Corporation, but also under various other corporations.

Chaudhary contended that on September 11, he presented a news and current affairs programme in Aaj Tak titled 'Black & White', where he pointed out that various persons objecting to the statement he made that the scheme is only applicable to non-Hindus.

He also pointed out that the process of consultation is presently being carried out for SC/STs to bring them under the scheme and thereafter, an advertisement will be issued. Till then, the scheme is only for the minority communities.

Chaudhary and others moved the HC with two separate petitions challenging the FIR for the offences punishable under Sections 153A and 505 of IPC. Justice Hemant Chandangoudar orally asked the Advocate General Shashikiran Shetty to ask the Bengaluru police not to take precipitative action against the accused till the next date of hearing on September 20.

Also, the court orally observed that the FIR does not require custodial interrogation as everything is in public domain.

Chaudhary stated that he has a right to disseminate information to the public at large.

NEED TO PRIORITISE CANCER TREATMENT: HEALTH MINISTER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

KARNATAKA Health Department unveiled a nine-point strategy as part of the Bengaluru-declaration of FICCI Cancer Care Task Force to reduce the state's cancer burden.

Health Minister Dinesh Gundu Rao said, "The increasing cancer incidence in the state is worrying. There is a need to prioritise treatment for cancer, as it is one of the deadliest diseases affecting both patients and their families. The treatment is expensive, and people are left dealing with the financial and emotional consequences." He was virtually addressing the Regional Roundtable - 'Road Map for Making Cancer Care Affordable and Accessible in India' - organised in the city on Friday.

Oncologists requested the government to drive screening programmes for cervical, breast and oral cancers and embed a robust referral pathway for positive patients, and suggested that the treatment coverage under the Ayushman Bharat Arogya Karnataka (AB-ARK) scheme must also be expanded to include advanced treatment options. Raj Gore, co-chair, FICCI Task Force Cancer Care and CEO of Healthcare Global Enterprises Limited, said, "The war with the pandemic might have waned, but we are still far away from reducing the cancer burden. No other disease is comparable in its devastating impact as cancer. It is crucial for all stakeholders to join forces and make coordinated efforts to mitigate and control the cancer epidemic."

EXPERTS BAT FOR CAR-T THERAPY

A 64-year-old man, who was diagnosed with non-hodgkin lymphoma (NHL) in 2015, underwent six cycles of chemotherapy, but it relapsed several times. Last year, he underwent Chimeric Antigen Receptor-T cell (CAR-T) therapy, and has not showcased any evidence of cancer since then. On World Lymphoma Awareness Day, observed on September 15, the doctors at Narayana Health cited the example of CAR-T therapy showing positive results in patients with relapsed leukaemia and lymphoma. Since it relapses in 30-40 per cent patients, experts bat for this therapy which might soon be available as a treatment for regular patients too.

Women mules caught, 5.2kg gold seized

S LALITHA @ Bengaluru

IN one of the biggest gold seizures made from passengers flying into Bengaluru, the Directorate of Revenue Intelligence (DRI) seized 5.2kg of gold valued at Rs 3.3 crore, from three women coming from Dubai. The women, natives of Chennai, were coerced into turning gold carriers after they were conned by agents who promised them lucrative jobs there. The women, in their early 20s, had arrived on an Emirates flight (EK 566) at Terminal 2 on the first day of international operations on Tuesday.

A top DRI official told TNIE, "Their flight reached Bengaluru by 7.30pm. Based on a DRI intelligence input, we frisked the women after they crossed the Green Channel (Immigration). They had smuggled gold in paste form in their undergarments, and stitched neatly inside their garments. We recovered a total of 5.2kg gold which has a market value of Rs 3.3 crore."

Interrogation revealed that the women had left from Chennai to Dubai just last month, after they were promised well-paid jobs. "They were made to believe that women who went there had lucrative careers. After reaching foreign shores, they realised there were no jobs and they had been duped. The women were told they would be paid their return flight tickets to India only if they agreed to smuggle the gold. The trio was doing it for the first time," he explained.

Their tickets were booked together but they were seated separately on the flight.

"There is a possibility that there is a much bigger racket by gold smugglers who are making use of gullible women. We are exploring this angle," he added.

A case was booked against them under Customs Act 1962. Investigations are on.

₹4 cr loss as fire breaks out at shoe warehouse

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

FIRE broke out at a footwear warehouse in Kengeri police station limits on Thursday night, after a truck struck an electric pole, which is suspected to have caused a short circuit that triggered the blaze. The damage is estimated to be more than Rs 4 crore.

The incident, which occurred at the warehouses belonging to Unicorn Marketing Bengaluru Private Limited and ASR Marketing located on the same premises at Harsha Layout in Kengeri Satellite Town at around 10.20 pm, was reportedly triggered by a short circuit inside the godown and the fire continued until 2 am.

The fire broke out shortly after warehouse manager Srinivas left after footwear worth Rs 20 lakh was unloaded. Ambika Srinivas, wife of the manager at Unicorn Marketing and also an employee, said, "Poor street lighting caused a truck, which was reversing near the gate of the warehouse, to collide with an electric pole."

Subsequently, the pole collapsed on the road, leading to a short circuit within the warehouse due to loose wiring, reportedly triggering a fire.

The fire department quickly arrived on the scene with 10 fire tenders and 60 fire-fighters to contain the blaze, but within 20 minutes, footwear worth over Rs 4 crore was already gutted, apart from computer systems containing records of the warehouse.

Conspiracy on to implement Manusmriti, it'll push 90% Indians into slavery: Siddu

CM says if we don't understand objectives of the Constitution and fail to follow it, we cannot build a better society

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah on Friday said that anti-Constitutional forces were conspiring to implement Manusmriti in the country which means 90% Indians will be forced back into slavery.

He was addressing a programme organised to mark the 'International Day of Democracy' by the Social Welfare Department on the grand steps of the Vidhana Soudha on Friday.

On the occasion, thousands of people, including Siddaramaiah, read the Preamble of the Constitution.

"The Constitution begins qith the sentence 'We the people of India'. If we do not understand the intention of the Constitution and not follow it, we cannot build a better society," he said, adding that his government works with secular and constitutional values. "But some people, who are opposing this, are conspiring to implement Manusmriti," the Chief Minister said, adding that those who oppose the Constitution are trying to destroy it.

"One has to be aware and careful...," he further elaborated.

Siddaramaiah further said that the intention of his government is to return people's money back to them.

Siddaramaiah said after the Constitution was adopted in India, the democratic system was officially implemented in the country.

"There has been democracy since the times of Lord Buddha and Basavanna. The debates held in the Parliament during the promulgation of the Constitution seem to reflect the importance of our Constitution and the mindset of the opponents of the Constitution," the Chief Minister added.

According to data shared by the State Information Department, more than 2.31 crore people from across the world registered to read the Preamble of the Indian Constitution.

On Friday, lakhs of people, including government employees, corporate sectors, school and college students and others read the Preamble of the Constitution.

Letting go or rescue: A death sentence for your old wheeled 'friends'

NIRAD MUDUR
Deputy Resident Editor, Karnataka
niradgmudur@newindianexpress.com

INEVITABLY, there comes a time to part with an old friend, even if that 'friend' is your vehicle — a two-wheeler, three-wheeler or four-wheeler. The universal truth of 'old making way for the new' is now glaring at owners of vehicles that are more than 15 years old in Karnataka. This is in keeping with the Union Ministry of Road Transport and Highways (MoRTH) direction to all the states that vehicles older than 15 years are unfit and should be scrapped to reduce air pollution.

Mallikarjuna C, Additional Transport Commissioner (Enforcement South) in Karnataka, has said all government vehicles that have run for 15 years should be scrapped, while owners of private vehicles more than 15 years old will be given the option to get a fitness certificate for the vehicle, failing which the vehicle would be scrapped. So, if you want your old 'friend' to be with you longer, rush to the Regional Transport Office (RTO) and get that fitness certificate. That will grant you an extended relationship with your 'friend'.

The state government has already taken the first step towards scrapping old vehicles. The state will have its first government-certified vehicle scrapping centre — call it a "slaughterhouse" — at Devanahalli near Bengaluru, where your 'friends' will be crushed using environment-friendly methods. It is expected to be operational by December-end.

The state government has finalised three private companies to set up and run the Registered Vehicle Scrapping Facilities (RVSFs), the 'slaughterhouses'. An approval for it is expected to be given by this month-end. Two other facilities will be set up at Koratagere in Tumkur district and Koppal.

There are about 60 RVSFs across the country, but none in Karnataka so far. The one in Devanahalli will be the first of the three in the state which will crush your 15-plus-year-old 'friends' without a fitness certificate. The government-owned ones are doomed to their fate — they will be crushed, with or without a fitness certificate.

As per the transport department data, there are up to 15 lakh vehicles — government- and privately-owned ones — that are fit to be scrapped. The figure is expected to go up to 66 lakh over the next five years.

In plans such as these — although a well-meaning one in terms of aiming at cleaning up the air — someone always gains. In this case, it will be the touts at the RTOs, who are expecting to hit gold, feasting off an unprecedented rush of private vehicle owners desperate to 'save' their 'friends' by getting a fitness certificate. The other ones to benefit from this are the mechanics, the allies of the vehicle owners in their mission to save their 'friends'.

The road ahead is pretty predictable. Private vehicle owners will choose one of two routes: To rush to their trusted mechanics and plead with them to get their vehicles ready to obtain a fitness certificate; or, bid farewell to their 'friends', allow their vehicles to be crushed and receive what is called a Certificate of Destruction (COD) — it will mention the value of the vehicle at its point of 'execution', which could be used as a discount while buying yourselves a younger 'friend'.

The ones completely untouched by the vehicle scrapping policy are the privileged ones who are in the habit of selling and buying vehicles every few years, well before the 'friend' reaches the old age of 15.

The scrapping has not begun yet. It is bound to take time, because the 'slaughterhouses' have to be up, equipped with their deadly equipment that will eliminate your 'friends'.

Heart goes out to those vehicle owners who are emotionally attached to their 'friends'. For them, it would be like waiting with bated breaths to ensure they get the fitness certificate to rescue their 'friends' from the 'slaughterhouses'. Well, they are most likely to be intercepted by the salivating touts at the RTOs....unless they are scrapped first!

HC relief for minister in land dispute case

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

IN a relief for Minister for Planning and Statistics D Sudhakar, the Karnataka High Court on Friday stayed further proceedings against him and three others in connection with an FIR filed by the Yelahanka police based on a complaint of alleged assault and atrocity on a woman in a land dispute case.

After hearing the petition challenging the FIR, Justice M Nagaprasanna stayed further proceedings against Seven Hills Developers and Traders, its director and Minister D Sudhakar, and one Srinivasan G and Bhagyamma, and issued notice to the police.

The dispute is related to a piece of land with survey No 108/1 at Gandhinagar, KHB Colony, Yelahanka, the FIR stated. Subbamma, in her complaint on September 10, alleged that Seven Hills Developers and Traders had fraudulently got a sale deed from her family for the land. She alleged that Sudhakar, Srinivas G, Bhagyamma, and 40 others trespassed on her land on Saturday and demolished the compound wall and sheds. When Subbamma and others objected to the demolition, the trespassers allegedly assaulted her daughter Asha and hurled casteist slurs at them. Civil cases are still pending before the city civil court and the high court in this connection. Based on her complaint, the police had booked Sudhakar, Srinivas, Bhagyamma, and others under various Sections of the SC/ST (Prevention of Atrocities) Act and IPC.

File suo motu cases on misinformation, hate speech: CM to top cops

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

CHIEF Minister Siddaramaiah said that he has instructed senior police officers to take stringent action against those who indulge in spreading misinformation, peddling fake news and delivering hate speech.

After taking part in the Senior Police Officers' Annual Conference here on Friday, the CM told reporters that he has given clear instructions to the officers to initiate legal action against those who are found to be spreading misinformation and giving hate speeches. "I have asked them to register a suo motu case if no complaint is filed and initiate action," Siddaramaiah added. The CM's statement came a day after IT-BT minister Priyank Khare announced the framework of the proposed fact-checking unit.

The CM said DCPs and SPs will be held responsible if they fail to curb incidents of crime in their jurisdiction. "We will not limit to punishing only the lower-rung staff. The officers can not sit at home or office and control crime. I have directed them to visit police stations and go on patrolling regularly. If DCPs and SPs fail to curb crimes, they will be held responsible," he said.

Siddaramaiah also said that police should shed their arrogance and be friendly with the public. "Irrespective of the background, every citizen who comes to a police station should be treated with respect, his grievance should be heard and FIR should be registered," he elaborated. Stating that the police should work with commitment as there is a direct connection between the law and order situation and the development of a state, the CM said he wants the police to work as per the expectations of the people. He said a special campaign will be held to fight the drug menace.

Home Minister G Parameshwara, Additional Chief Secretary to Government Rajneesh Goel, DG & IGP Alok Mohan, and others were present on the occasion.

E-CHALLAN AND E-FIR LAUNCHED

CM Siddaramaiah launched the Electronic Challan (E-Challan) system which is going to cover all the Law & Order and Traffic police stations in the state. It is proposed to make the system operational all over the state from November 1. Once it is operational, Karnataka will be the first state in the country where a digital mode of traffic fine collection is going to be extended to every nook and corner of the state. The E-challan system will facilitate traffic violators to pay the fine amount using their card or UPI. The online system will also allow the citizens to check their pending fines on their mobile phones, laptops or any other digital devices. He also launched the E-FIR facility, which helps citizens, whose motor vehicles are stolen, to file a complaint online and get the FIR copy by visiting the Citizen Centric Portal under the https://ksp.karnataka.gov.in/. He also released "Unveiling The Shadows: Advancements in Anti-Forensic Technique Detection For Law Enforcement Agencies", a technical research report developed by the Centre for Cybercrime Training and Research Institute set up by the CID.

SANCTION FOR NEW POLICE STNS IN B'LURU

CM Siddaramaiah said the government has given sanction to establish five traffic and six women police stations in Bengaluru. "To strengthen CCB, 230 additional staff have been sanctioned. Besides, the old police commissioner's office, which is a heritage building, will be renovated at a cost of Rs 3 crore," he said.

In boost to Cong, several JDS, BJP ex-corporators join party

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

SEVERAL Bharatiya Janata Party and Janata Dal (Secular) leaders from the Padmanabhanagar Assembly constituency represented by former minister R Ashoka joined the Congress in the presence of Deputy Chief Minister DK Shivakumar on Friday. This comes as a setback for the BJP ahead of the Lok Sabha elections as most of the leaders who quit, including former corporators, hail from the strong Vokkaliga community. Attempts by the BJP state brass to stop the "disgruntled" leaders from quitting the party went in vain as they attacked Ashoka accusing him of going against them in the Vokkaliga Community Association elections and also during BBMP Mayoral polls.

Transport Minister Ramalinga Reddy and his daughter Sowmya Reddy, a former MLA, were present on the occasion. There are murmurs in political circles of Sowmya contesting the upcoming Lok Sabha elections from Bengaluru South constituency. Sowmya had lost the recent Assembly elections from the Jayanagar constituency.

The list of leaders who joined the Congress includes Prasad Babu alias Kabaddi Babu, considered the Man Friday of JDS leader HD Kumaraswamy; Babu's son Pawan; Padmanabhanagar BJP mandal president Rangarame Gowdru; former deputy mayor L Srinivas; former TP member Anjinappa, and former corporators Shobha Anjinappa, Balakrishna, Suguna Balakrishna, U Krishnamurthy, Supriya Shekar, Narasimha Nayak H Narayan, H Suresh, Venkataswamy Naidu, and L Govindaraju and former ZP member Lakshmi Suresh.

M3 found water molecules in lunar dust plume

THE research, published in the journal Nature Astronomy, concluded that Earth could be contributing to water formation on the lunar surface with its electrons striking the lunar surface when the Moon comes in its magnetotail.

The UoH researchers had analysed the data gathered by an imaging spectrometer, the Moon Mineralogy Mapper (M3), which was a payload on board Chandrayaan-1. The mission was launched on October 22, 2008, and on November 14 that year, it had released a surface impacter called Moon Impact Probe, which struck the lunar surface near the Shackleton Crater, raising a huge plume of dust. The M3 had detected water molecules in this lunar dust plume, which was a breakthrough discovery of presence of water and water hydroxyl on the Moon's surface. Chandrayaan-1 mission ended on August 28, 2009 when earth stations lost contact with the orbiting spacecraft. The researchers used the data disseminated by ISRO's Indian Space Science Data Center.

BJP PLANS CAUVERY RAKSHANA YATRA TO PROTEST RELEASE OF WATER TO TN

Police detain activists during a protest against the release of Cauvery waters to Tamil Nadu, in Bengaluru on Friday | SHASHIDHAR BYRAPPA

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

THE Opposition BJP slammed the State Government for failing to protect the interests of Karnataka farmers in the Cauvery water-sharing issue.

Former CM BS Yediyurappa said that the State Government is releasing Cauvery waters to Tamil Nadu as the DMK, which is in power in the neighbouring state is part of the I.N.D.I.A bloc.

He said Karnataka Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM DK Shivakumar should have taken the initiative to approach the Supreme Court much earlier. The government has completely failed to convince the apex court about the prevailing situation in the state, he added.

Former chief minister and senior BJP leader Basavaraj Bommai demanded a compensation of Rs 25,000 for each acre to be paid to every farmer in the Cauvery basin and the BJP will undertake the Cauvery Rakshana Yatra in the Cauvery basin after September 21 to protest against the release of water.

Speaking to media persons after holding a meeting with the leaders of the Cauvery basin, he said, "We have not released even 30 % of water to our farmers. On the other hand, Tamil Nadu farmers are growing the second crop. Our government miserably failed to make an impressive argument before the Cauvery Water Management Authority."

He urged the government to put forth the ground reality in the Cauvery basin before the apex court and the CWMA.

Bommai said they have decided to undertake the Cauvery Jagruti yatra in every taluk in the Cauvery basin. The next course of action would be decided after September 21 as the case would come up for hearing on that day.

Meanwhile, former Bengaluru City Police Commissioner and BJP leader Bhaskar Rao said unable to face criticism about its performance, the State Government is threatening those who criticise the government. The government is trying to muzzle freedom of the press and booking cases against BJP workers criticising the government, he added.

Health workers collect clinical samples and investigate the home of a Nipah virus victim, in Kozhikode on Friday | PTI

One more Nipah case confirmed in Kozhikode

ENS @Kozhikode

ONE more person tested positive for Nipah in Kozhikode on Friday, taking the total number of cases in the state to six, four of them active. Two persons had died of the viral infection earlier. Health Minister Veena George said samples of a 39-year-old man from Cheruvannur near Feroke tested positive on Friday and he is currently under observation at a private hospital.

Following this, the Cheruvannur area within the Kozhikode city corporation limits has been declared containment zone. Meanwhile, the number of persons in the contact list of the Nipah patients increased to 1,080, with the addition of 130 more people on Friday. As many as 29 persons in the contact list are from outside Kozhikode district -- 22 from Malappuram, three from Kannur, and one each from Wayanad and Thrissur districts.

It has been learnt that the newly-infected person availed treatment at the private hospital that was visited by the patient who first contracted the infection and died on August 30. "August 29 will be considered as the peak day of spread as all the confirmed cases till date got infected from the index person who was at the Iqraa hospital in Malaparamba on the day," said District Medical Officer K K Rajaram. Veena said all the 30 samples collected on Thursday have tested negative. It includes the health staff at the Iqraa Hospital and other high-risk contacts. The health department has asked all those who visited Iqraa hospital in Kozhikode on August 29 and 30th early morning to report to the Nipah control room. Meanwhile, the samples of the person from Maruthonkara, who died on August 30, tested positive for Nipah on Friday. This has been considered as the index case of the virus infection in the district.

The health minister said with the setting up of the NIV mobile testing facility at the Kozhikode Medical College Hospital, the samples need not be sent to Pune for testing.

Kerala MLA praises Siddu, DKS in Kannada

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

A clip of Indian Union Muslim League MLA AKM Ashraf's speech in the Kerala assembly, praising the people of Karnataka, particularly Chief Minister Siddaramaiah and Deputy CM D K Shivakumar, has gone viral. He spoke in Kannada, winning hearts this side of the border.

"I congratulate CM Siddaramaiah and DyCM DK Shivakumar," Ashraf said. The fairly large population of Kannada speakers residing in Kerala, especially in the northern areas, loved it and Ashraf's video has been widely circulated among social media groups. ISRO in Thiruvananthapuram has hundreds of Kannada speakers, there are many Central government officers from Karnataka, besides migrant labourers.

Ashraf told TNIE, "I am a Kannadiga and love the works of Govinda Pai and Kuvempu, I must be the only politician to speak Kannada in the Kerala assembly."

Shantinagar MLA N A Haris, who hails from the area around Mangaluru, said, "I know Ashraf personally. If our country has to progress, we need to take everyone along. Secular voices must be encouraged. Speaking in Kannada in the Kerala assembly warms our hearts. We are all Indians and can speak many languages. Ashraf speaks excellent Kannada. Before the reorganisation of states, this area was part of erstwhile South Canara and has many fluent Kannada speakers."

Scanty rain, low dam levels force ryots to avoid paddy cultivation

K SHIVA KUMAR @ Mysuru

WITH sparse rain and reservoir levels fast receding, many farmers of the Cauvery basin have not taken up paddy cultivation, fearing that water storage in the dams would not be sufficient for the crop.

Farmers who depend on the Visvesvaraya canal and feeder canals in Malavalli and Maddur in Mandya district, and those of Talakadu region in T Narsipur and parts of Kollegal who depend on the Kabini reservoir, are the worst affected as they have not been able to sow the kharif crop. However, farming activities picked up in July end and gained momentum when water in the KRS reservior rose to 113ft, against 124.8ft, and the Kabini level shot up to 2282ft, as against 2284ft. The Irrigation Consultative Committee assured them that they would give 15 watering days a month in both KRS and Kabini achukat to grow semi-crops. But the KRS level dropped to 97.38ft, with the government releasing 25tmcft water to Tamil Nadu, following directions from the Cauvery Water Management Authority, and the Kabini level dropping to 2276.25ft.

A paddy field near Talakadu lies barren, as farmers cease cultivation fearing water shortage | UDAYASHANKAR S

Paddy cultivation and farming have taken a beating in Malavalli and Maddur taluks of Mandya district, as water has not reached the tail-end region. However, paddy transplantation has been taken up in a few patches that depend on water in tanks and irrigation pump sets. Talakadu region, known for paddy cultivation, has been hit with many farmers fearing they would not get enough water for the crop, and giving up paddy cultivation. A few tried to grow pulses but could not get a good yield due to scanty rain, said Purshotham, a farmer. While many in Sisale, Mugur and parts of Kollegal taluk are looking up to the skies to save their crops, standing sugarcane crops are also badly hit without sufficient water from feeder canals.

TWO EXEMPLARS FROM TAMIL NADU FOR OTHERS TO FOLLOW WITH CAUTION

NOT a largesse; it is a recognition of rights!" That is how the Tamil Nadu government's advertisement on the new social welfare scheme of ₹1,000 monthly financial assistance for women screamed from newspapers. As Chief Minister MK Stalin launched the first-of-its-kind scheme on the birth anniversary of Dravidian icon C N Annadurai, more than one crore women beneficiaries in the state are ecstatic with their newfound agency and are flashing their brand new debit cards. It is a new benchmark in social welfare schemes anywhere in the country. More than 1.06 crore eligible applicants have received a direct bank transfer. Stalin has said the monthly honorarium scheme, a key feature of the DMK's 2021 election manifesto, serves two purposes: it recognises the untiring work of women and helps them live with self respect. The scheme is expected to cost more than ₹12,000 crore, which many believe is not a big deal for TN's growing economy. Public sector and cooperative banks are happy that lakhs of new savings accounts are being opened across the state.

The other welfare scheme that has drawn national attention is the pioneering breakfast programme for schoolchildren. The government has rolled it out to 31,000 government primary schools to benefit 17 lakh students. Special attention has been given to how the scheme is rolled out across the state and the balance of nutrition given. The scheme is another big step, along with the mid-day meal, in ensuring that hunger is not a barrier to education. Though the state government is vehemently opposed to the Centre's New Education Policy, it had no qualms about implementing the breakfast scheme the policy suggested. New Delhi itself has not implemented the breakfast scheme or helped others do so.

These fund-guzzling welfare programmes enjoy tremendous public support and are a lure for other states to implement. But they are, perhaps, exemplars only for the financially sound states, not the economically fragile ones. Even for TN, whose outstanding debt has ballooned to ₹7.54 lakh crore according to its 2022-23 budget estimates, these welfare schemes may mean that capital expenditure would need to be lowered if revenues do not increase. Replicating them in other states with an eye on the 2024 election may prove perilous if it's not weighed against overall financial health.

PUT WORDS INTO ACTION, FIGHT CLIMATE CHANGE

THE skies opened up on coastal Libya this week. Unprecedented rainfall claimed more than 6,000 lives in the eastern port city of Derna. The city's mayor said that at least 20,000 others are still missing. The week before, the same rain clouds had caused widespread floods across the Mediterranean in Greece, Bulgaria and Turkey. At the same time, an earthquake flattened 50,000 houses and killed 5,000 in Morocco. Nature is in no mood to relent this El Niño season. But what aggravated the blows were shoddy construction, crumbling infrastructure like dams, and unready local governments.

Similar downpours played havoc in Himachal Pradesh earlier this year. More than 300 people died over three months as a direct result of rain-wrought devastations. Dozens of bridges were washed away, scores of buildings collapsed, and sliding hillsides piled tonnes of rock on highways. Hundreds of hill villages are still without the full service of roads that are their lifelines. Here, too, similar administrative failings were on display. Roads were broadened without firming up hillsides, houses were erected on untested soil, and low-slung bridges were built without accounting for such extreme events. Several regions of Himachal Pradesh and Uttarakhand remain imperilled.

The next calamity is a question of when, not if. While the fight to slow down climate change is a global, multi-generational grind, disaster planning and resilience testing of infrastructure can be improved right away. The benchmarks they are tested against can be upgraded. Earlier this year, India led the G20 nations in setting up a disaster risk reduction group. Its five action areas of early warning systems, infrastructure resilience, financing, reconstruction, and ecology-focused risk reduction need to avoid the analysis-paralysis such multilateral efforts are prone to. We cannot just be global thought leaders on the subject, we need to lead the battle on our own ground first. In July, the Council on Energy Environment and Water, a think tank, told us that Andhra Pradesh, Telangana, Tamil Nadu and Karnataka were among 12 states that were least prepared for extreme floods. This week, the National Disaster Management Authority tested an emergency phone alert system across the country and found several gaps. It reminds us that as the climate changes at its inexorable pace, we need to change faster.

QUICK TAKE

LET TEACHERS TEACH

THE Bihar government recently directed district magistrates not to engage state school teachers in recruitment exam duties. That brings up a grim matter. Surveys regularly reveal improving teacher-student ratios in state schools. However, studies also show teachers spend only 19% of their teaching time teaching. Non-teaching activities take up the rest. The National Education Policy recognises the problem, disallowing teachers to take up "non-teaching activities during school hours". But they continue to do polling, census or vaccination campaigns, count cattle, verify Aadhaar cards, procure school supplies, and serve mid-day meals. Such multi-tasking initiatives shouldn't be at the cost of students' learning.

A LAMENT FOR LOST CONTEXTS OF SANSKRIT

BIBEK DEBROY

Chairman, Economic Advisory Council to the Prime Minister

SOUMYADIP SINHA

ALL languages were initially spoken; writing came much later. As a language, Sanskrit flows freely. It doesn't like stops. Hence, words tend to combine with each other and merge. Svagatam does mean welcome. But it is actually Su+agatam, which means, 'Your arrival is good/welcome.' Spoken fast, this becomes Svagatam. There are grammatical rules for combining words, i.e., sandhi and samasa. The word sandhi means combination or union. The word samasa is a bit like abbreviating.

Without boring the reader with Sanskrit grammar, when there is sandhi, the two words combined don't lose their innate meanings. With samasa, the meaning of the combined word may be completely different from the meanings of the two original words. Every language loves to play with words; puns are an example. In Sanskrit, playing with words and their meanings is staple fare. The conversation between Rama and Shurpanakha in Valmiki's Ramayana is an instance. Rama never lied. But each sentence had a double meaning and what Rama said was quite different from what Shurpanakha thought he said.

For both sandhi and samasa, there are different rules. Every student of Sanskrit knows about the shloka which is a conversation between a king and a beggar. The beggar tells the king, "Both you and I are Lokanathas. I am bahuvrihi and you are tatpurusha." Bahuvrihi and tatpurusha are two different types of samasa.

What does the word Lokanatha mean? (In writing Sanskrit words in English, there should be the 'a' at the end. If Sanskrit is intended, one should write Bharata. With Hindi, Bharat is fine.) Loka means 'the world' and natha means 'lord'. With tatpurusha, Lokanatha means lord of the worlds, as the king is. With bahuvrihi, Lokanatha means someone for whom the world is a lord. This makes sense, since the beggar has to go around seeking alms for survival.

Atithidevo bhava—what does this mean and where is it from? This has become a tagline for welcoming visitors and tourists, and we translate it as 'a guest is a god'. Tithi is a lunar day, and atithi=a+tithi. A pre-announced and invited guest is not quite an atithi but is someone who turns up unexpectedly.

Few know that this is from the Shiksha Valli section of the Taittirya Upanishad. A segment from this, the 11th anuvaka, is the first recorded convocation address in the world by a guru to graduating students. Subsequently, as with contemporary convocations, students took a pledge. That bit from the convocation address goes, Matridevo bhava, pitridevo bhava, acharyadevo bhava, atithidevo bhava and so on. The trick to understanding the meaning of any sentence—in Sanskrit more than any other language—is to get a handle on the verb first. In this case, the verb is bhava. This means this is an imperative instruction to 'you' in the singular. 'You' are being instructed to 'be'. Be what? Be one to whom the mother is like a god, the father is like a god, the acharya is like a god and the atithi is like a god.

In case you haven't guessed, expressions like atithidevo are bahuvrihi samasa. But as in the conversation between the king and the beggar, this isn't the only meaning possible. The word deva does mean god but actually means 'the shining one'. Skipping the details, I can have an alternative meaning of the samasa, i.e., 'be a guest who is respected'. This is contrary to the usual meaning but grammatically correct.

I don't think too many people, except those who specialise in Sanskrit, have read Shiksha Valli. It says things like Satyam vada, dharmam chara, meaning 'speak the truth, follow dharma', and Esha dharma sanatana, which means 'this is eternal dharma'. Like a disease, if sanatana dharma is to be eradicated, I should treat the mother, the father, the acharya and the guest like devils, never speak the truth and follow adharma.

Of course, there is Humpty Dumpty, who had a great fall. To quote Humpty Dumpty from Lewis Carroll, "When I use a word, it means just what I choose it to mean—neither more nor less." One can't do that with an expression like sanatana dharma. It means eternal dharma, nothing more and nothing less. Dharma means something that holds up, and there can be no quarrel about that. Of course, there are different contexts in which the expression occurs, not just Shiksha Valli. Many people have written on sanatana dharma and what it means. Coincidentally, a book authored by Partho (who is mononymic) has just been published by Blueone Ink Publishers, titled This is Sanatan Dharma. Irrespective of the context and irrespective of who has written, the expression means eternal dharma, which is the foundation that holds up society, with different manifestations and expressions.

It is perfectly possible for someone to have a problem with the practice of the varna system. In the West, there has been a long tradition of discussing logical fallacies. There was this tradition in India, too, more so in Sanskrit, and this means Buddhism too. Whether West or East, there is a fallacy known as hasty or false generalisation. Or perhaps one has in mind straw men or red herrings, other examples of faulty reasoning.

The point is that unless one is Humpty Dumpty, there is no equivalence between sanatana dharma and the practice of varna. There are many who have been critical of the latter but have been sufficiently knowledgeable about the former, to not indulge in false equivalences and hasty generalisations. There is ignorance and there is incompetence.

There is a principle known as Hanlon's razor. Paraphrased, one shouldn't attribute to malice something adequately explained by stupidity. The opposite also stands: one shouldn't attribute to stupidity something adequately explained by malice. Sometimes reasoning is delinked from rhetoric.

Or perhaps one goes back to Humpty Dumpty and the philosophy of language. Language means we have a common set of rules, so that words have a common meaning that everyone understands. One can deviate from this while using ciphers, so that only those privy to the key can understand. But that's not what one does in public speeches, where every person who hears is expected to comprehend. Hence, the message of eradication was sufficiently clear. Like a disease, eradicate the foundation. Reminds me of a line from the Book of Lamentations in the Bible: "Persecute and destroy them in anger from under the heavens." There is indeed a lot to lament for.

SPEAKEASY

WITH two successful moonshots and a Mars orbiter in the bag, a solar probe in flight and a manned mission on the calendar, the Indian Space Research Organisation (ISRO) is rebranding itself according to changing perceptions about India's place in the world. The coincidence of an unexpectedly successful G20 summit and a deservedly successful moon landing sharpened that perception. At the same time, it is also sharpening an irony that has dogged India from the time when the first sounding rockets took off from Thumba in Kerala—it's a spacefaring nation that cannot feed, clothe and educate its people.

The most compelling pictures of ISRO were shot by Henri Cartier-Bresson in 1966, showing a man wheeling the nose cone of a rocket to the launch pad at Thumba on the carrier of his bicycle. Until the Chandrayaan project began, the Indian space programme was identified with jugaad, and ISRO had defined itself as the world's cheapest provider of launch vehicle technology. The jugaad tag persists. Mangalyaan was budgeted at $73 million and in the US, National Public Radio marvelled that it was astronomically cheaper than NASA's $671-million Maven orbiter. It cost less than the Hollywood film Gravity. After Chandrayaan 3 landed safely, ISRO chairman S Somanath laughed off questions about the frugality of the mission, for fear that other space projects would start emulating ISRO's strategies.

But jugaad may have little to do with ISRO's economics. The Martian and lunar missions slashed costs by using the angular momentum of the craft in the earth's gravitational field to sling it towards its target, reducing the need for fuel. This is not jugaad but a completely scientific idea—Arthur C Clarke used it in 2001: A Space Odyssey in 1968, a year before Apollo 11 set off for the moon. Apart from that, the cost of inputs, from human resources to rivets, are low in India.

ISRO did not set out to compete with the technologically advanced nations. Vikram Sarabhai was focused on development, not the prestige that moon missions bring—imaging for earth sciences and weather forecasting, and geostationary satellites for running TV stations for national integration. Sarabhai had no idea that anchors yet unborn would polarise viewers and promote national disintegration.

Even now, when the private sector is taking the lead in the US, Indian objectives remain different. Between them, Elon Musk, Jeff Bezos and Richard Branson are pursuing three goals: tourism at the edge of space, reusable rocket technology for high traffic, and the really big one—preparing for the peopling of the moon and the planets. But in space, as in all else, it is economics rather than science which determines outcomes. Currently, making moons and planets fit for human habitation isn't commercially viable for both corporates and governments.

TWITTER

From Henri Cartier-Bresson's iconic 1966 picture of Indian rocket scientists to Chandrayaan 3, India has certainly soared high

In its moon missions, ISRO has focused on a single but crucial component of the big project, which would bring it prestige and establish it as a stakeholder: water. The detection of water on the moon was based on ISRO data, and Chandrayaan-3 has landed in a polar region, where it is more likely to find water ice. A finding would make the region, where other nations have not ventured before, a focus of the search for signs of lunar life. And if water ice is discovered in bulk, it would make it the obvious place to set up lunar bases.

Historically, space missions have served scientific purposes only incidentally. They are packaged as national prestige projects designed to overawe the geopolitical competition and transmit polite threats. Perhaps that was because the development of rocket science and related technologies was spurred by the surge in defence research and innovation during and after World War II. As the nuclear age dawned, détente ensured that technologically capable countries could not go to war with each other any more. They competed by signalling the threat of violence. Space technology is dual use, and during the Cold War, when a nation sent a vehicle into space for the sake of science, it signalled its ability to drop a bomb anywhere on earth. It's a psychologically compelling message because the weapons platform could be up there anytime, like the Sword of Damocles.

After the first orbiter, Sputnik 1 of the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, reached low earth orbit in October 1957, it ran a sound and light show for the whole world for three weeks before its batteries ran out. It was visible as a fast-moving point of light, and it sent out a cheerful beep on the short wave which could be received by home radio sets. It was a cheeky public message to the Americans, letting them know who was ahead in ballistic missile technology. The power inequation was reversed in 1969 by Apollo 11, which decisively put Americans on the moon.

Now, India is doing some geopolitical signalling with its space programme. The US wants it to exert its influence against China's maritime ambitions. India is technologically and economically far behind China, but it can show off its capabilities in one domain: space. It explains why it is important to put an Indian on the moon—putting boots on the ground is a more compelling signal than sending out drones. Of course, the old irony remains, of a nation which has the wherewithal to put a citizen on the moon but had to screen the slums and tenements of its capital from the disapproving gaze of G20 delegates.

But displacement analysis (how many slums could be improved for the price of a lunar mission) has its limits. India is anyway not going to be a developed nation for decades. It can afford to send a citizen up there right now, and hope that the world gets the message.

Political mouthpieces

Ref: Oppn bloc blacklists 14 television news anchors (Sept 15). Ever since the BJP came to power, a section of the media has become its mouthpiece. Newsroom debates on selected channels are now chambers of vitriolic hatred aimed at the opposition. The INDIA bloc's decision is fully justified.

G20 success

Ref: One tamasha, too many agendas (Sept 15). The columnist has articulated well the chronological evolution of the G20. Barring the pomp and huge cost which are inevitable for events of this sort, the G20 summit was a resounding success in terms of its focus and objective. Global acceptance of the Delhi Declaration is a case in point.

Not tamasha

Kajal Basu's One tamasha, too many agendas (Sept 15) lacks foresight; he points out that ₹4,110 cr has been spent on G20 for no reason. It is worth mentioning the fraudulent manner in which previous governments conducted such summits. The writer has missed mentioning the advantages for India in the years ahead. The nation wants to be a permanent UN member, and several G20 countries back this.

Teachers' decorum

Ref: Teachers must mentor, not divide students (Sept 15). It is shameful that a few teachers subject their students to physical and mental torture, violating the Right to Education Act. That this happens along caste and communal lines is pathetic. Teachers' appointments should be based on merit, character, attitude, and previous track records. They also shouldn't be hand in glove with politically-oriented teacher associations.

Farooq's proposal

Ref: Talks with Pak: Farooq proposes, BJP disposes (Sept 15). Pakistan is in the throes of an economic chaos and is led by a caretaker government that is subservient to the Army. India's space successes and political stability rankle Pakistan. Conducting Assembly polls in J&K will bring back Mehbooba Mufti or Farooq Abdullah, who are known to soft pedal separatism and kowtow to the neighbour. India needs to be vigilant on its borders.

Sleep woes

I agree with the quick take Sleep better to save the day (Sept 15). Getting around six and a half hours of sleep on weekdays seems alright for a healthy person but seven hours of sleep is ideal.

CWC meet to firm up assembly poll strategy

Cong president Kharge to brief members about 3 meetings of I.N.D.I.A at party's highest decision-making body

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Hyderabad

THE Congress Working Committee (CWC), the party's highest decision-making body, will be meeting in Hyderabad on Saturday.

The CWC meeting coincides with the upcoming special session of Parliament scheduled from September 18 to 22. During this session, key Bills, including 'One Nation, One Election' and the Uniform Civil Code (UCC), are expected to be introduced in the Lok Sabha.

Against this backdrop, the CWC aims to draw the roadmap for the forthcoming assembly elections in five states and set the direction for the Indian National Developmental Inclusive Alliance (I.N.D.I.A) ahead of the 2024 general elections.

In the CWC meeting, AICC president Mallikarjun Kharge will brief members about the three meetings of the INDIA alliance and discuss pressing political issues, including the upcoming assembly elections in five states, election preparations, and the Manipur issue, AICC general secretary KC Venugopal told a press conference on Friday.

84 leaders to attend

The CWC will be attended by Kharge, Congress Parliamentary Party chairperson Sonia Gandhi, former AICC president Rahul Gandhi and Priyanka Gandhi, along with members, permanent and special invitees — a total of 84 leaders.

While 90 leaders were invited, four expressed their inability to attend, citing personal reasons, Venugopal said. After the CWC meeting and Vijayabheri, top state Congress leaders will spread out across the 119 assembly constituencies in the state, embarking on a door-to-door campaign and issuing chargesheets against the Modi-led Union government and K Chandrasekhar Rao-led state government.

Interestingly, the two national ruling and opposition parties have chosen Hyderabad to host their most significant meetings in the recent past. While Congress will be holding the CWC meeting this month, the BJP also held its national executive committee (NEC) meeting in Hyderabad last year.

Besides holding the CWC meeting, the Congress will also be holding a massive public rally in Hyderabad with lakhs of people where the party is likely to announce six guarantees.

'BJP has hidden agenda'

Venugopal expressed concern over the lack of transparency by the Modi government.

"Whenever Parliament convenes, they should at least state the agenda. Now, after a hue and cry, they gave an agenda just the day before yesterday. Till now, we aren't aware of any additional agenda. They are calling a meeting on September 17. This party (BJP) and this government have hidden agendas to sabotage democracy. Let us see what happens. We will face...," he said.

CPM Politburo to decide on INDIA panel member

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

THE CPM is likely to finalise nomination of its member to the coordination committee of the I.N.D.I.A (Indian National Democratic Inclusive Alliance) bloc during its politburo meeting scheduled on September 16-17.

"Decision to send a representative to the coordination committee of the INDIA bloc may be taken in the politburo meeting. This is one of the agendas," said a member of the party's Central Committee.

The party leadership is treading cautiously on the issue, particularly because of its position in West Bengal, where it is in direct contest with the Trinamool Congress (TMC).

In the I.N.D.I.A parties' conclave early this month, it was decided that there would not be any alliance between Congress and CPM in Kerala, where they are main rivals. But, both the parties will have seat-sharing understanding in West Bengal and they would jointly be taking on TMC. On some seats where the BJP has an edge, the Congress and CPIM may come together to help the ruling TMC, said a senior Congress leader.

At present, I.N.D.I.A group has 13 members in the committee and the CPM is yet to name its nominee. K C Venugopal (Congress), T R Baalu (DMK), Hemant Soren (JMM), Sanjay Raut (Shiv Sena-UBT), Tejashwi Yadav (RJD), Raghav Chadha (AAP), Javed Ali Khan (SP), Lalan Singh (JDU), D Raja (CPI), Omar Abdullah (National Conference), Mehbooba Mufti (PDP), and Abhishek Banerjee (TMC) are members of the coordination committee.

The first meeting of INDIA for negotiations on the seat-sharing formula and evolving a broad outlay of campaign strategy ahead of the LS election was held at the residence of NCP leader Sharad Pawar in Delhi on September 13. The 14-ember coordination committee was formed in its third meeting in Mumbai earlier this month.

Rahul Navin appointed in-charge ED director

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

RAHUL Navin, an Indian Revenue Services (IRS) officer, has been appointed as the in-charge director of the Enforcement Directorate. The tenure of his predecessor Sanjay Kumar Mishra ended on Friday.

An office order from the Ministry of Finance late on Friday said that Navin, a special director at the ED, has been appointed as the in-charge director till appointment of a regular director or until further orders.

Navin is a 1993 batch IRS officer. The tenure of SK Mishra, a 1984 IRS officer, as ED director was marred by controversies, with critics alleging the government of using the enforcement agency as a tool to counter dissent and political opponents. Mishra, who was given two extensions by the government, was forced out of his post after the Supreme Court held as "illegal" two successive extensions of one year each granted to him.

The court said that the extensions were in "breach" of its mandamus in the 2021 verdict that the IRS officer should not be given further term. On July 26, the SC granted an extension of tenure to Mishra till September 15 but made it clear there would be no further extension.

Religious freedom in India: US body to hold hearing on Sept 20

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

THE US Commission for International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) has announced that it will hold a hearing on religious freedom in India on September 20.

Earlier on May 2, India had rejected USCIRF reports that alleged violation of religious freedom in the country. India had termed the reports as "biased and motivated".

"The US Commission on International Religious Freedom (USCIRF) continues to regurgitate biased and motivated comments about India, this time in its 2023 annual report. We reject such misrepresentation of facts, which only serves to discredit USCIRF itself," the Ministry of External Affairs had said in a statement.

"We would urge USCIRF to desist from such efforts and develop a better understanding of India, its plurality, its democratic ethos and its constitutional mechanisms," the statement had said.

Hunting for remedies

Coming on the heels of two successful bilateral meetings between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Joe Biden — the Official State Visit of the Indian leader here in June and a bilateral meeting in New Delhi in September — USCIRF said the Congressional hearing is on how the US government can work with the Indian government to address the human rights violations.

Coming on the heels of two successful bilateral meetings between Prime Minister Narendra Modi and President Joe Biden — the first was during PM Modi's official visit to the US in June and a bilateral meeting in New Delhi in September (before the G20 Summit) — USCIRF in its announcement said the Congressional hearing is on how the US government can work with the Indian government to address violations.

Fernand de Varennes, United Nations Special Rapporteur on Minority Issues, has been invited to testify before the commission along with Tariq Ahmed, foreign law specialist, Law Library of Congress; Sarah Yager, Washington Director, Human Rights Watch; Sunita Viswanath, executive director, Hindus for Human Rights and Irfan Nooruddin, Hamad bin Khalifa Al Thani Professor of Indian Politics at Georgetown University.

Meanwhile, the USCIRF has said that Prime Minister Narendra Modi's State visit to Washington in June reflects the close bilateral relationship between the United States and India.

"However, over the last decade, the Indian government has enacted and enforced discriminatory policies targeting religious minorities, including anti-conversion laws, cow slaughter laws, legislation granting citizenship preferences based on religion, and restrictions on foreign funding for civil society groups," USCIRF said.

Since 2020, the USCIRF has recommended that the US Department of State designate India as a Country of Particular Concern (CPC), it said.

Modi, Xi, Putin to skip UNGA meet

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

PRIME Minister Narendra Modi and Chinese President Xi Jingping will be among the leaders who will skip the 78th session of the United Nations General Assembly (UNGA) on September 18.

Two main issues are going to be the talking point of the upcoming session: the ongoing conflict in Ukraine and the issues concerning the Global South. This is because there is a segment of countries that finds the conflict in Ukraine overshadowing their concerns.

Meanwhile, Ukrainian President Volodymyr Zelenskyy, who spoke to his fellow leaders via video link last September, is now set to appear in New York in person and address the General Assembly on September 19 and the Security Council on September 20. Russia's Foreign Minister Sergey Lavrov will attend the same session, but chances of the two facing each other are slim, as they will stay in the outside chamber when they speak.

India's External Affairs Minister Dr S Jaishankar would be attending the session on September 26. The Russian side would be attended by Lavrov and from the Chinese side, their Vice-President Han Zheng will be attending.

"Ukraine and Russia will be one of the most debated and talked about issues during the session. In addition, there will be a group — most likely from the Indian subcontinent that would try and highlight other international crises and challenges — which would include concerns of the Global South," said a source.

It may be recalled that the 2022 UNGA session was dominated by the fallout from the Russia-Ukraine conflict.

"Diplomats from the Global South are hoping that the issues of their concern are given credence too. Besides, the UN's adoption of Sustainable Development Goals (SDG), which has marked 2030 as the year set of commitments, including ending extreme poverty and safeguarding the environment, might be given importance," said a source.

The conflict in Ukraine and the pandemic has been a setback to the SDGs.

The president of the General Assembly, Dennis Francis of Trinidad and Tobago, will convene a special summit on achieving accelerated progress towards the SDGs on September 18 and 19.

The Black Sea grain initiative will also be a major point of discussion during the sessions that Zelenskyy is to address and attend.

There is likely to be a session on climate change too in the run up to the Cop28 Summit that would be held in Dubai in November.

US President Joe Biden will be one of the opening speakers of the high-level session on September 19. Time will tell whether Biden speaks about reform in the UNSC and also takes up the issue of India getting a permanent seat in it—as he has assured when he met Modi during a bilateral meeting on September 8 in Delhi.

DD: 64 yrs of unforgettable tales, iconic works

PARVEZ SULTAN @ New Delhi

DOORDARSHAN (DD) completed 64 years of its service on Friday. The experimental broadcaster began on September 15 in 1959, which turned into a regular service in 1965 when DD began beaming signals to homes in and around the national capital. Then President Rajendra Prasad inaugurated the first broadcast.

By 1972, the services were extended to Mumbai and Amritsar. Within the next three years, its expansion went to seven more cities. Since then, DD has been expanding its presence among the masses.

Doordarshan is an autonomous public service broadcaster and functions under the Prasar Bharati. It is one of the largest broadcasting organisations in the country in terms of studio and transmitter infrastructure.

On DD's foundation day, Union Information and Broadcasting Minister Anurag Singh Thakur said that the transformation of the channel from black and white to vivid colours reflects the journey of our nation, which finds resonance with every Indian.

"Sixty four years of unforgettable tales, iconic works and numerous memories... The journey from broadcasting for just 30 minutes to the coverage of the G20 Summit in 4k quality speaks of the transformation Bharat has undergone and is continuously witnessing under the leadership of PM Narendra Modi. I take this moment to thank and appreciate all the people who have been involved with Doordarshan. Every Indian is grateful to you," the minister posted on micro blogging site X (formerly Twitter).

From 1959 to 1976, DD service was part of the All India Radio (AIR), national public radio broadcaster. On April 1, 1976, it transformed to become a separate department in the Ministry of Information and Broadcasting and later it was brought under the control of Prasar Bharati.

A new signature image was designed by the National Institute of Design and a signature tune was created by Pandit Ravi Shankar. The first telecast in colour took place on August 15, 1982, when the national programme started.

With modern technological changes, Doordarshan has gone digital and reached the palms of individuals.

Union Minister for Housing and Urban Affairs, Hardeep Singh Puri, also extended his greetings to the channel for completing 64 years of service.

"For a generation that grew up listening to radio, the advent of television was a revolutionary surprise and this signature tune was almost a part of our lives! Best wishes to DD National on completing 64 years of DD Nostalgia," he too posted on X, along with a video of the signature DD tune.

At present, Doordarshan has 35 satellite channels and 66 studio centres across the country, a DD DTH earth station at Todapur in Delhi and 55 transmitters of varying power.

THE DD JOURNEY

Over the years, Doordarshan has continued to enthral audiences — from the days of Ramayana, Mahabharat, Hum Log, Buniyaad, Malgudi Days and Udaan to today's high-tech coverage of national and international programmes.

Wrong to say SC collegium has no factual data to evaluate judges: CJI

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

IT IS wrong to say that the Supreme Court Collegium has no factual data to evaluate judges it considers for appointments, said Chief Justice of India DY Chandrachud on Friday.

To ensure transparency in recommending judges to the Supreme Court, the collegium has prepared a broad platform, with the aid of which it has assessed top-50 judges for consideration as SC judges, he said.

Speaking at the Ram Jethmalani Memorial Lecture, Chandrachud said that the SC Collegium's aim is to lay down objective parameters for selection of judges for the Supreme Court and high courts.

"One of the criticisms against the collegium is that we have no factual data to evaluate the people we are considering for appointments. We have taken some steps. It is a work in progress, but we are improving. With the help of the Centre of Research and Planning, we have prepared a broad platform, where we have assessed the top 50 judges in the country, who would be considered for appointment to the SC. We have data on judgements, reportable judgements, data on the quality of their judgements. The idea is to make the recommendations more transparent. Not by sharing our discussions in the public realm, which we obviously cannot do, but by laying down objective parameters for selection to the Supreme Court and high courts."

We have taken some steps (to evaluate judges being considered for Supreme Court). It is a work in progress, but we are improving

DY Chandrachud, Chief Justice of India

Referring to Supreme Court being onboard with the National Judicial Data Grid (NJDG), he said that NJGD would provide real-time tracking of disposal and pendency of cases.

"This will increase intercourt coordination of data and aid in quality research. Disposal and pendency of Supreme Court cases are available case-wise, year-wise, stage-wise and quorum-wise. This information will help us identify the areas of concern to decrease pendency. Institutionalisation requires policy solutions. Due to lack of data, it had been painfully difficult to devise methods to reduce pendency. Now, as per NJDG data, there are 62,946 civil and 17,555 criminal cases pending. We have had a disposal rate of 95.34 per cent this year. This data will help me prioritise certain categories of matters for their able disposal and allow us to evaluate our performance," the CJI said.

Farewell: 6-year-old son salutes dad one last time

HARPREET BAJWA @ Chandigarh

WEARING camouflaged military clothes, six-year-old Kabir, the son of Col Manpreet Singh who was killed in a gun battle with terrorists in Kashmir, saluted his father one last time before the mortal remains of the braveheart were consigned to the flames with full military honours near Chandigarh on Friday.

Away in Haryana, mortal remains of Major Ashish Dhonchak, another soldier who laid down his life fighting terrorists in Kashmir, was consigned to the flames at his native village in Panipat amid chants of "Bharat Mata Ke Sapoot Ki Jai" and "Bharat Mata Ki Jai" renting the air.

Singh's house in Bharaunjian village witnessed a steady stream of mourners who joined his inconsolable wife, mother and other family members in his final journey. An army officer was seen holding Kabir, as the family and others paid their last respects. Singh's two-year-old daughter Banni was held tight by a relative.

As the remains reached his home in Mullanpur near Chandigarh, Kabir was later seen clinging to the tricolour-wrapped coffin of his father. He bowed before his father's body just before cremation.

In C'garh, Nadda slams Oppn on Sanatan Dharma

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

A day after PM Narendra Modi attacked the opposition coalition INDIA in poll-bound Chhattisgarh, the BJP president J P Nadda hit out at the alliance claiming that the agenda of the Congress leadership intends to "disrespect and abuse" Sanatan Dharma.

Nadda flagged off the second 'Parivartan Yatra' of the opposition BJP ahead of the assembly polls in Jashpur, 350 km outside Raipur, on Friday.

While alleging that the Congress government failed to keep the promises the party made to the people and engaged in massive corrupt practices, he asked the chief minister Bhupesh Baghel to make his stand clear on anti-Sanatan Dharma comments given by Udhayanidhi Stalin, whose party DMK is a member of INDIA bloc. Udhayanidhi's recent deriding remark on Sanatan Dharma cited it as alleged divisiveness and lack of equality.

Congress president Mallikarjun Kharge's son too had targeted the ancient faith.

"Sonia Gandhi is silent on the issue and Rahul visits all over the world and talks about the Constitution but didn't utter anything on it (Sanatan Dharma)," Nadda said.

Meities demand withdrawal of Assam Rifles as 175 lives lost in Manipur riots

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Guwahati

AROUND 175 people were killed and 1,108 others injured in the more than four months long ethnic violence in Manipur even as a Meitei group met defence minister Rajnath Singh and demanded the withdrawal of Assam Rifles from the state for acting in a "biased" manner. Inspector General of Police (Operations) IK Muivah told journalists that 32 people were reported missing.

There were altogether 5,172 cases of arson. These include the torching and vandalism of 386 religious structures — 254 churches and 132 temples — he said. Talking about arms and ammunition "lost", Muivah said, "We have recovered 1,329 arms, 15,050 ammunition and 400 bombs," he said. A total of 360 illegal bunkers were also destroyed, he said.

The miscreants had reportedly looted thousands of firearms and a huge quantity of cartridges from police armouries during the violence.

Muivah assured people that efforts were being made by the police, central forces and civil administration to restore normalcy. IGP (Administration) K Jayanta said bodies of nine of the 175 are yet to be identified.

While 79 bodies were claimed, 96 remained unclaimed, he said, adding that the bodies had been kept at Regional Institute of Medical Sciences (28), Jawaharlal Nehru Institute of Medical Sciences (26) and Churachandpur hospital (42).

9 bodies unidentified, 96 unclaimed

IG of Police IK Muivah assured people that efforts were being made by the police, central forces and civil administration to restore normalcy. IG K Jayanta said bodies of nine of the 175 are yet to be identified. While 79 bodies were claimed, 96 remained unclaimed, he said.

Meanwhile, a two-member delegation of Delhi Meitei Coordinating Committee met Defence Minister Rajnath Singh in New Delhi on Thursday and demanded that Assam Rifles be replaced with any other "responsible security force of India." It said the Meiteis' confidence in Assam Rifles "has become very low."

According to the Coordinating Committee on Manipur Integrity, an influential Meitei civil society organisation, the delegation mentioned that protesting Meiteis are dealt with lathis, tear gas, rubber bullets and even bullets, but the protesting Kukis are not dealt with in a similar manner.

The delegation said this led to a sense of "biased" treatment and caused anxiety and fear among the Meitei people. It requested Singh to ensure that Assam Rifles and Army deal with both communities equally. The violence in Manipur broke out on May 3 after a "tribal solidarity march", which was taken out against an alleged move to grant Scheduled Tribes status to the majority Meiteis.

Sharad Pawar says no split in NCP, EC refuses to accept it

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @ Mumbai

IN a setback to Sharad Pawar-led faction of NCP, the Election Commission of India (ECI) on Friday refused to accept its argument of no split in NCP.

The ECI stated that NCP is divided between two factions — one led by Sharad Pawar and another by Deputy Chief Minister Ajit Pawar.

The Election Commission asked both the factions to present their sides during the hearing on October 6. Then, it will take a decision over which is the real NCP and whom the symbol of the party has to be allotted to.

Hearing

The Election Commission asked both the factions to present their sides on October 6 during the hearing. Then, it will take a decision over which is the real NCP and whom the symbol of the party has to be allotted.

NCP state chief Jayant Patil said they did not expect the ECI would take the different decision over their claim of no split in NCP. "We had informed the ECI that there is no split in NCP. But without hearing our side, the ECI has decided and accepted the split in NCP. We are seeking the legal opinion over the arbitrary decision of ECI. It shows that the conduct of the ECI is not in accordance with the law. That is quite surprising," Patil said.

Ajit Pawar refused to speak over it, saying, "Let the ECI take the decision after hearing both the sides". He said it will take the decision on the basis of reality and documents.

A source close to Ajit Pawar said Sharad Pawar never called election of party national and state units for some time. "In fact, a lot of violation of the party constitution has been done by the Sharad Pawar faction. We will present all these facts before the ECI. We know how the party was run. We are closely seen and therefore we are confident of getting the party name and symbol," he said.

The source said they will continue their fight. He said they have seen how the central agencies and independent institutions like ECI works partially, hence they are prepared for all kind of situations.

U'khand sets target of ₹2.5L crore investment in December summit

NARENDRA SETHI @ Dehradun

THE Uttarakhand government is expecting an investment of ₹2.5 lakh crore in the state through the proposed Global Investors' Meet in December.

Speaking at the curtain raiser event in New Delhi, chief minister Pushkar Singh Dhami elaborated on the Uttarakhand Global Investors Summit-2023. "Uttarakhand is fast emerging as a young state with immense potential for industries. There is ease of doing business as well as peace of doing business in the state," he said.

The incidents of labour dissatisfaction in the industries operating in the state of Uttarakhand are negligible, which is a positive aspect about the establishment of industries, according to Dhami.

"Entrepreneurs in the state are our brand ambassadors and they have the highest participation in increasing investment in the state. Our government is working on the basis of simplification, resolution, disposal and satisfaction and this is possible only when their problems are resolved by constantly communicating with industry associations", the CM said.

Speaking to thsi newspaper, Director General of Information Bansidhar Tiwari said: "On this occasion, ITC has proposed an investment of ₹5,000 crore to the Uttarakhand government for the Global Investor Summit."

"An MoU was signed with Mahindra Holidays and Resorts India for an investment of ₹ 1,000 crore and with E-Kuber for an investment of ₹1,600 crore."

"The first international roadshow abroad for the summit will be held in London from September 25 to 28," Banshidhar Tiwari said. This will be followed by road shows in Singapore and Taiwan in the first week of October. "Road shows in Dubai and Abu Dhabi from October 16 to 2 will lure foreign investors to invest in Uttarakhand, Chief Minister Pushkar Singh Dhami will also attend it," said DG Tiwari.

Rains take the mojo out of annual war of stones

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bhopal

HEAVY rains and consequent swollen rivers causing casualties and loss of human lives are not new.

However, in Madhya Pradesh's largest district, Chhindwara, continued rains and a swollen Jam river turned out to be a savior of human lives and limiter of injuries inflicted by a centuries-old tradition of war of stones between two riverside villages.

The Gotmar Fair, which marks Bhadrapad Amavasya for the twin-villages of Pandhurna and Sawargaon, happened on Friday.

The tradition that falls on 15th day of the Hindu month of Bhadrapad takes its origin in a local mythological tale of killing of two lovers.

This year, however, continuous rains and a swelling Jam river, which separates the villages, seemed to have taken the sheen out of the annual stone pelting war between the residents of the two villages.

Compared to previous years when the number of those injured were anywhere between 200 and 400, the number of injured this year stood at just a few dozens, possibly 50-75.

Crowds gathered on either sides of the Jam river for the Gotmar Fair on Friday. (inset) People hurling stones into the air | PTI

According to a senior police officer camping in the area, even the magnitude of injuries were slight and not serious enough to be hospitalised, within the district or be rushed to neighbouring Nagpur in Maharashtra.

"Just a few people, including a man aged between 60-70 years, had to be rendered treatment at the local hospital for injury caused by stones," Chhindwara district police superintendent Vinayak Verma told this newspaper.

Around 55 mm rainfall was recorded in Chhindwara district in 10 hours starting from 8.30 am in the morning.

The sunrise-sunset war of stones between the residents of the two riverside villages was subsequently toned down due to heavy rains, consequent rise in Jam river and additional measures by local administration, including ban on use gofan (slings used to shoot stones), closure of liquor shops since Thursday night and deployment of an SDERF team to prevent any mishaps in the swollen river.

Previously in 2022, while around 200 people were injured in the annual stone war (unconfirmed reports put the figure at 400-plus), around 4-5 had to be rushed in serious condition to a hospital in Nagpur for life-saving treatment.

At least one of those persons whose life was saved by doctors in Nagpur, had suffered serious eye injury.

The annual sunrise-sunset war of stones forming part of the Gotmar Fair, which besides causing injuries to hundreds every year has also reportedly claimed around 15 lives since 1955. It owes its genesis to a mythological tale of two young lovers — the girl from Sawargaon and the boy from Pandhurna — killed in the Jam river after getting caught in stone-pelting by the residents of the two villages.

Kim gets a close look at Russian jets, Kremlin says no agreements signed

SEOUL

NORTH Korean leader Kim Jong Un inspected Russia's most advanced fighter jet as he toured an aircraft factory on Friday on an extended trip that has raised concerns about weapons transfer deals.

Meanwhile, the Kremlin said on Friday that no agreements had been signed during Kim Jong Un's ongoing visit to Russia, amid concern that the two isolated countries could be preparing an arms deal.

"No agreements were signed and there was no plan to sign any," Kremlin spokesman Dmitry Peskov told reporters.

On Friday, Russia's state media published videos showing Kim's train pulling into a station in the far eastern city of Komsomolsk-on-Amur and Kim's convoy sweeping out of the station on the way to the city's aircraft factory.

Russia's Cabinet later released video showing Kim, on an elevated platform, looking at the cockpit of the Su-57—Russia's most sophisticated fighter jet—while listening to its pilot. Kim beamed and clapped his hands when a Su-35 fighter jet landed after a demonstration flight.

Kim visited a facility producing Sukhoi SJ-100 passenger planes as well, accompanied by Deputy PM Denis Manturov.

Chinese def chief under probe for procuring arms

As per media reports, US believes that Li Shangfu has also been stripped of his duties

WASHINGTON

THE US government believes China's Defence Minister Li Shangfu is the subject of an investigation by Beijing and has been relieved of his duties, the Financial Times reported, citing American officials.

The report came shortly before Rahm Emanuel, the US ambassador to Japan, stated on social media that Li "hasn't been seen or heard from in 3 weeks," and that the minister might have been placed under house arrest.

Asked by AFP on Friday whether Li Shangfu was under investigation, a Chinese foreign ministry spokeswoman said she was "not aware of the situation you raise."

According to a report by Reuters, the investigation into Li relates to procurement of military equipment. The report also said that eight senior officials from the Chinese military's procurement unit, which Li led from 2017 to 2022, are also under investigation, according to two of the persons in direct contact with the military.

The Times reported that three US officials as well as two persons briefed on intelligence said the United States determined Li Shangfu had been stripped of his duties as minister. It was not clear what made President Joe Biden's administration conclude that Li was under investigation.

China also replaced the leadership of its Rocket Force, the army unit that oversees its nuclear arsenal, in July, with its former commander Li Yuchao not seen in public for weeks before the change.

The latest apparent removal of an elite Chinese official from public view led Ambassador Emanuel, who has been openly critical of Chinese President Xi Jinping, to fuel speculation about the issue on September 7 and again one week later.

Li Shangfu, Chinese Defence Minister

"President Xi's cabinet lineup is now resembling Agatha Christie's novel And Then There Were None. First, Foreign Minister Qin Gang goes missing, then the Rocket Force commanders go missing, and now Defence Minister Li Shangfu hasn't been seen in public for two weeks," Emanuel posted last week on X, the former Twitter, using the hashtag #MysteryInBeijingBuilding. On Thursday, in another post on his official ambassador account that appeared to openly provoke the Xi government, he questioned whether Beijing authorities have restricted Li's movements. Agencies

BLOW TO NAWAZ AS SC NIXES GRAFT LAW CHANGES

ISLAMABAD

IN a landmark ruling, Pakistan's Supreme Court on Friday scrapped the recent amendments to the country's anti-graft laws and restored corruption cases against public office holders, including former prime minister Nawaz Sharif, who was one of the major beneficiaries of the changes.

The apex court was announcing its reserved decision on jailed former prime minister Imran Khan's plea filed last year, challenging the amendments made to the accountability laws by the then government led by ex-PM Shehbaz Sharif.

A three-member bench comprising Chief Justice of Pakistan (CJP) Umar Ata Bandial, Justice Ijazul Ahsan and Justice Syed Mansoor Ali Shah issued a reserved judgment by a 2-1 majority. Justice Shah disagreed with the majority verdict. Annulling the changes by the government headed by Shehbaz Sharif, the court declared that amendments, like limiting the jurisdiction of the National Accountability Bureau (NAB), the anti-corruption watchdog, to the cases involving over Rs 500 million, were against the Constitution.

It restored corruption cases against public office-holders. The court directed that the cases withdrawn after NAB's jurisdiction was limited to investigating cases below Rs 500 million be fixed for hearing in accountability courts.

It also declared the verdicts issued by the accountability courts null and void in light of the amendments made to the laws and directed the NAB to send the record to the relevant courts within seven days.

The restoration of the old law may have implications of varying levels for several politicians, including former president Asif Ali Zardari and ex-premiers Nawaz Sharif, Shehbaz Sharif, Yusuf Raza Gilani, Raja Pervez Ashraf and Shahid Khaqan Abbasi.

They all benefited under the new law as the trial of those accused with less than Rs 500 million of alleged corruption was stopped. PTI

KAKAR REFUSES TO GIVE OUT GENERAL POLL DATE

Pakistan's interim PM Anwaar-ul Haq Kakar on Friday refused to give a date for the country's general elections. "If I were to announce elections, I would be engaging in an unlawful act, and as a journalist, you should be aware that if you steer us towards illegal actions and pose questions that might tempt us to break the law, then what should my response be?" he said.

Smuggling, illegal currency biz bleeding the economy

ISLAMABAD

A report by Pakistan's Intelligence Bureau (IB) has exposed how smuggling, illegal currency business, and misuse of Afghan transit trade are bleeding the already battered economy.

The IB report mentioned that the annual loss to the national exchequer amounted to at least Rs 225 billion through the illegal supply of Iranian Petroleum, Oil, and Lubricants (POL) products alone. As against only illegal sale at roadside petrol outlets, it is now available at regular petrol pumps across Pakistan.

The IB report also drew attention to how Afghanistan's annual trade volume gap of $4 billion is "met through the drug trade, currency smuggling from Pakistan to Afghanistan" and the "receipts on account of hawala/hundi." As many as 122 currency smugglers and 40 exchange companies involved in the manipulation of the currency markets were identified.

Drug dealers across Pakistan and 22 transnational drug networks, some of them making their way into educational institutions in urban centres; tax evasion of around Rs 240 billion with tobacco among the top five sectors; tea imported under the Afghan Transit Trade Agreement (ATTA) being smuggled back through reverse cargo into Pakistan, and 49% of the annual demand of tyres in Pakistan being met through smuggling were among the main pointers of the report. It also added the detailed remedial measures taken by the IB. PTI

Aug merchandise trade deficit widens to $24 bn

Goods exports in April-Aug hit $172.95 bn, lower than $196.3 bn in same period last yr

DIPAK MONDAL @New Delhi

THE country's merchandise trade deficit in August rose to $24 billion, the highest in the current financial year, even as merchandise exports during the month inched up to $34.48 billion as compared to $32.25 billion in July.

In the previous two months (June and July), the merchandise trade deficit was about $20 billion. August goods exports broke the month-on-month declining trend, and reported the highest numbers in the past three months. Year-on-year (YoY), merchandise exports showed a drop of 7%. Services exports in August fell both on a YoY and month-on-month basis. In August 2023, services export was at $26.39 billion as against $26.50 billion in August 2022 and $27.17 billion in July 2023.

Overall, exports in August 2023 stood at $60.87 billion as against $63.52 billion in the same month previous year. In the April-August period, merchandise exports reached $172.95 billion, which is lower than $196.33 billion in the same period last year. Exports during the period stood at $343.81 billion, which is 10% lower than last year's exports. Releasing the monthly data, commerce secretary Sunil Barthwal said there has been an uptick in exports, and pessimism about exports growth which were there till July has converted into optimism. "Green shoots are now clearly visible," said Barthwal. Barthwal attributed the slow export growth in the earlier months to both high base effects as well as declining commodity prices. "Now, with firming up of petroleum prices, commodity prices will also firm up, and the impact will be visible in exports figures," added Barthwal. Crude prices in the international market surged to a 10-month high on Friday to $94 a barrel due to a production cut announced by OPEC + countries.

Petroleum exports fell 27% in the first five months of the current financial year followed by Gems and Jewellery (26%) and Engineering goods.

India-Canada free trade talks put on hold

NEW DELHI: India and Canada negotiations for a free trade pact will resume after resolution of political issues between the two countries, a senior official said on Friday. "There were certain political developments in Canada on which India has raised its objections. India has shown a strong resentment against certain political developments in Canada, and therefore, till these political issues are settled, we have paused the negotiations," the official said. ENS

Market rallies make investors richer by ₹14L cr so far in Sept

ARSHAD KHAN @New Delhi

THERE is no stopping bulls as the BSE benchmark Sensex advanced for the eleventh straight session on Friday and is just shy away from hitting the 68,000 mark for the first time.

This non-stop rallies have made investors richer by ₹13.80 lakh as the market capitalisation of all the BSE-listed firms has jumped from ₹314.63 lakh crore to ₹328.43 lakh crore during the period.

The fresh surge in the domestic equity market comes amid the expectation of a robust festive season and a halt in rate hikes by the US Federal Reserve in next week's policy meeting. Moreover, positive economic data from China and the stimulus package has added optimism in global markets.

> Status quo on rate hikes will further bolster investors' sentiment as this would give a leg up to the economy on hopes of softening interest rate stance
> Amol Athawale, VP, Technical Research, Kotak Securities

BSE Sensex on Friday surged 319.63 points, or 0.47%, to settle at 67,838.63, while NSE's Nifty50 advanced 89.25 points, or 0.44%, to shut shop at 20,192.35. For the week, the two benchmarks gained about 1.5% and in the last 11 trading sessions, their gains have been in the range of 4.50-5%.

Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services, said some of the positive global cues include China's recovery from deflation, cooling core inflation in the US, which supports the idea of a rate pause, and hints from the European Central Bank (ECB) about a potential pause in rates due to receding inflation. Amol Athawale, vice-President - Technical Research, Kotak Securities, said a status quo on rate hikes would further bolster investors' sentiment as this would give a further leg up to the economy on hopes of softening interest rate stance, going ahead. A drop in the US treasury yields have resulted in a recovery in world equity markets and had a rub-off effect on local markets.

However, the rallies continue to defy concerns such as elevated crude oil prices, weakening of rupee against the dollar and the expensive valuation of the Indian market. A handful of market experts have said investors should move ahead with caution and may even look towards booking profit, especially if they are invested in small-cap and mid-cap stocks. After rallying more than 45% since the lows of March 2023, the mid and small-cap indices are facing pressure as profit booking set in, driven by overvaluation concerns.

Crude prices touch 10-month high of $94/bbl

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @New Delhi

CRUDE oil prices in the international market surged to a 10-month high on Friday on account of a production cut announced by Organization of the Petroleum Exporting Countries (OPEC) + countries.

Brent Crude Futurewas trading at $94.05 a barrel while WTI Future was trading at $90.55 on Friday (4.47 PM IST). According to analysts, crude oil price could even touch $100 a barrel in the next a few weeks.

Crude oil was trading at $82 a barrel (bbl) in January, after falling to $70 a bbl in Janury, and now stands at a robust $94 a bbl. The rapid price increase from $82 a bbl on August 23 to the current $94 a bbl illustrates the immediacy of the surge.

This increase in the price came after Saudi Arabia and Russia announced that they would extend voluntary reduction in crude oil production until the end of the year. Saudi Arabia has extended an oil production cut of one million barrels per day, began in July.

FinMin defends Q1 GDP numbers amid concerns over data credibility

MONIKA YADAV @New Delhi

REFUTING concerns raised by many commentators over the country's official first quarter GDP numbers, finance ministry has said critics have been inventing arguments (to underestimate India's economic growth) where none exists.

The ministry has also defended the methodology used by the Ministry of Statistics and Programme Implementation (Mospi) to measure the GDP growth. In a recent article by Princeton Economist Ashoka Mody questioned the Q1 GDP growth numbers citing discrepancies arrived at through the income and expenditure approach. In another article, former chief economic advisor of India Arvind Subramanian raised the issue of unreliability of GDP deflator.

In an elaborate clarification, the ministry on Friday rebutted the criticism point-by-point. On the issue of discrepancy between income and expenditure approach, the ministry stated that real GDP growth for Q1FY24 stood at 7.8% year-on-year, based on the income or production approach. However, if the expenditure approach was used, the growth rate would have been lower. To reconcile the differences between the two approaches, a statistical discrepancy is added to the expenditure approach estimate. These discrepancies, which can be positive or negative, tend to balance out over time.

The ministry said India employs the income approach for calculating GDP growth and doesn't switch between the two approaches based on convenience or favourable outcomes. Regarding concerns about nominal GDP being lower than real GDP growth, the ministry dismissed these claims. It said India's GDP deflator, influenced by wholesale price index (WPI), was affected by factors such as oil and food price increases due to the war in Ukraine and supply-side disruptions.

LUXURY SPACE TO LEAD E-MOBILITY: AUDI INDIA HEAD

HRITHIK KIRAN BAGADE @ Bengaluru

GERMAN luxury automobile giant Audi is keenly watching the electric mobility spurt in India and has gradually developed the needed infrastructure to tap demand in the country.

Stressing the opportunities in India for e-mobility growth, Audi India Head Balbir Singh Dhillon said, "We are in the early phase of electrification in the country. A lot of success depends on charging infrastructure. Considering we have a large geography, implementation takes time. But the way it is growing, and how chargers are getting installed, electrification will also move upwards."

He added: "The luxury space will lead to electrification in the country. By the end of this decade, at least, in the luxury space, 50% of the cars will be electric."

Audi India's stable currently boasts of six electric cars, under its 'e-tron' brand, namely Q8 e-tron, Q8 Sportback e-tron, e-tron GT, RS e-tron GT, e-tron, and e-tron Sportback. All these models are sold as CBUs (completely built-up units), and priced over Rs 1 crore (ex-showroom).

Currently, the duties on all imported cars range from 70-110%. "In terms of CBUs, the taxation structure makes these cars expensive, leading to limited volumes. But once we start making these cars in India, the taxation structure would change and we will be able to improve sales and address a wider customer base," he indicated, adding the idea is to serve the whole luxury segment in the future.

Audi India Head Balbir Singh Dhillon launches an Audi Approved: plus dealership in Bengaluru on Friday

Meanwhile, Audi has bolstered its e-mobility reach to serve existing customers better. The company has installed around 100 chargers at its dealerships and at the outlets of its group brand (Volkswagen). "We have also tied up with five charge-point operators, and our 'myAudi' application allows customers to access about 1,000 charging points, for which they can pay through the app," Dhillon told TNIE.

Globally, Audi plans to have more than 20 fully electric models in its portfolio by 2025. "By 2026, the only new models the brand will release will be fully electric. The company has made a clear commitment to electromobility in terms of investment planning as well. For instance, from 2022 to 2026, Audi intends to invest around 18 billion euros in electrification and hybridisation, based on its planning round adopted in 2021-end. With an overall investment of around 37 billion euros, nearly half of the outlays will go to these future-oriented topics," a note on the company's website reads. Some of these models could make it to India if local conditions are conducive.

In H1 2023, Audi sold 9,07,111 units in total, translating to 15.3% growth. Audi India, meanwhile, sold 3,474 units at a Y-o-Y growth of 97%, as against the industry's ~20%. Of the total cars sold in India during the period, electric cars constitute 2-3%.

Meanwhile, the company on Friday inaugurated its 25th pre-owned car facility 'Audi Approved: plus' in India, at Whitefield in Bengaluru.

Rishi Sunak-led UK govt to pump $621 mn into Tata Steel to decarbonise steel plant

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

RISHI SUNAK-led UK government to provide a support of $621 million (500 million pounds) to Tata Steel on a proposal to invest in electric arc furnace steel making in South Wales with a capital cost of £1.25 billion inclusive of the grant. The remaining 750 million pound will be invested by Tata Group.

The project, according to Tata Steel, would bolster UK's steel security and would be the first major step towards decarbonisation of the industry, reducing emissions by 50 million tonnes over a decade.

The British government has described this as one of the largest government support packages in history that would help safeguard 5,000 jobs. "The UK government is backing our steel sector, and this proposal will secure a sustainable future for Welsh steel and is expected to save thousands of jobs in the long term," said Britain's trade minister Kemi Badenoch.

Tata Steel had earlier said without government help it could close its sites and British business. Tata Group Chairman N Chandrasekaran said: "The agreement with the UK Government is a defining moment for the future of the Steel Industry and indeed the industrial value chain in the UK...The proposed investment will preserve significant employment and presents a great opportunity for the development of a green technology-based industrial ecosystem in South Wales."

Neeraj looking to keep up hot streak in Eugene

A World Championships gold was the crowning glory of this season but superstar javelin thrower Neeraj Chopra has a title to defend as he takes the field against familiar rivals at the prestigious Diamond League finals in Eugene (US) on Saturday. The 25-year-old Chopra lifted the Diamond League champion's trophy in Zurich last year and he would be looking to do the same again.

Ranatunga hits out at ACC

Half-way through WC, organisers can change rule before India-Pak clash, opines former Sri Lanka captain

FIROZ MIRZA
Express @ Asia Cup
COLOMBO

NOT known to mince his words, former Sri Lanka captain Arjuna Ranatunga slammed Asian Cricket Council (ACC) for changing playing conditions for the India-Pakistan clash and said the same could be done during the upcoming ODI World Cup in India. The former all-rounder, who led Sri Lanka to their greatest cricketing triumph ever by lifting the 1996 World Cup, was speaking to select media in Colombo on Friday.

"Now, you take the Asia Cup. You have rules before the tournament, but before that one game (India vs Pakistan), they changed the rules. So where is ACC? Where is ICC?" he questioned.

Making it clear that he is fine with India being powerful but he wants the world governing body to have a say in such things. "So, World Cup we'll say halfway through the tournament, 'I won't be surprised if they change the rule before the India-Pakistan game', they might do it. So ICC will keep their mouth shut and say 'ok, ok, do it'. So this is bad. Bad things are happening. I'm not saying it is India, Pakistan. India is powerful. That's perfectly alright but if the ICC doesn't put a foot into it... the ICC is quite comfortable. They are in a coat and tie, and put a hankie in their pockets and go to meetings. They talk rubbish and nothing happens," Ranatunga said.

The southpaw, who used to bowl right-arm medium pace, termed ICC an unprofessional organisation. "I don't know whether the ICC is acting today or whether we have ICC. They always say ICC is the toothless tiger. They act in a very unprofessional way. I think they are the ones who should look at cricket and protect cricket. Like, okay, they all have franchisees. That's perfectly okay. But ultimately cricket should be controlled by the ICC, not by a country or an individual."

Praising former ICC presidents like Sharad Pawar and Jagmohan Dalmiya, he said cricket was a priority for those office-bearers. "But in my days, I was at the ICC, I was a director. There were quality people looking to protect cricket. I was working with Sharad Pawar, I'm not talking about the political Sharad Pawar, I'm talking about the cricket Sharad Pawar. Jagmohan Dalmiya, they were more focused on cricket. They had to fight with the others but still they could still take decisions. They didn't allow... those days Australia, England used to control the ICC. They put a foot on it and they were fighting for their rights."

Ranatunga was unhappy with the boards like the Sri Lanka Cricket and Bangladesh Cricket Board, who gave their consent to change the rule during the continental tournament. He said it's the players who suffer because of such arbitrarily rule changes. "We are lucky that we won the game yesterday (Thursday). Right, you just imagine. If we lost the game yesterday, it would have been a disaster in this country. Luckily, it didn't rain. If we lost we were out of the finals."

The 2023 edition of the continental tournament has been under scanner for poor scheduling since the beginning with rain playing spoilsport, halting or even getting abandoned. "Our crowd, our spectators are so educated in cricket. They have better knowledge than us. Why did they do this (poor scheduling)? Why do other countries allow that to happen? Because the BCCI is powerful, or one particular person is powerful. No, it can't happen like that. This is where I feel very, very uncomfortable and very sad. They should have given an extra day for all the games if that was the case."

The Asia Cup was originally allotted to Pakistan but once the BCCI refused to travel to the country, the tournament was held on a hybrid model with Pakistan hosting four matches while the remaining games including the final to be hosted by Sri Lanka. But the venues chosen for Sri Lanka leg witnessed downpour on match days putting a question mark on their selection. "Why did they play in Colombo when you have places like Hambantota? It doesn't train in Hambantota. That particular ground was built to play cricket during the rainy season. So you come to Colombo to play the Asia Cup. What is ACC doing? These are the small, basic, fundamental things they miss."

The cricketer-turned-administrator-turned-politician said he is glad the tournament returned to the country but affirmed proper planning should have been done before organising the event. "Our cricket board allowed it to go to the UAE. Now that it comes to us, I'm glad that at least our spectators had the opportunity to watch, but overall they should have planned properly. This is something we used to do when I was on the ICC board. We used to discuss. Dalmiya and Pawar, they didn't play cricket, but still they had knowledge on some of the things."

Always vocal for his teammates during his playing days, Ranatunga criticised cricketers for not talking about the unfair move. "I am not very comfortable with some of the things, especially when you have a tournament where you change rules for one team. You're looking at a disaster in the future. I feel very sad for ICC and ACC because they just want to hold the positions. Why should they get into this? Might as well stay at home and allow someone to work on the cricket part. I don't agree with that. No one talks about it. Have you ever seen a single cricketer talk about this rule change? No. Why? They don't want to miss the buck. Simple as that," he signed off.

Aiming for bullseye: Jyoti hopeful of golden display

KALYANI MANGALE @ Chennai

BETWEEN the World Archery Championship in Germany, the Archery World Cup Stage 4 in France and the Archery World Cup final in Mexico, Jyothi Surekha Vennam has hardly spent time with her family. With the Asian Games up next, her time away from home will continue. One of India's most decorated compound archers is primed for glory.

"It has been only three days since we started to practice after coming back from the World Cup Final," Jyothi, who represented India alongside Aditi Swami in the Archery World Cup Final in Mexico, told this daily. "It is going well for us in Sports Authority of India's (SAI) Sonepat Campus. This is the time for us to track our improvement or make changes to be fully prepared for the Asian Games."

The result in Mexico was a hard pill to swallow for India's compound archers as Prathamesh Jawkar was the only one who finished on the podium with silver. Jyothi crashed out of the first round against eventual gold medalist Sara Lopez, while Aditi couldn't go past the first round as well. Even with the unfavourable results in hot Mexican conditions, the 27-year-old has opted to look at the silver linings. "It was an amazing experience (to play the World Cup final in Mexico) after a long travel time. The results didn't go our way. But I believe, we learned a lot from it and in the future, we will be able to use that experience," she added. With the Asian Games approaching fast, Jyothi and the team — Swami, Parneet Kaur, and Avneet Kaur — will get the opportunity to use those lessons in China.

The 19th edition of the Asian Games will also mark the return of the individual categories after missing out on the 2018 edition in Indonesia. Jyothi is particularly happy to see the individual category make a comeback. "When the individual events were part of the Asian Games in 2014, India won medals in both men's and women's individual events. It was not part of the 2018 event. But now it is re-introduced in the Asian Games, so we hope to win medals in all categories. India has been doing well throughout the year so, we are confident of making it count at the Asian Games," she said with delight.

At this year's event. Jyothi is the only archer who has experience of playing at the Asian Games amongst her teammates. But the senior-most member of the squad has full confidence in her teammates. "They have been playing at the Asian and World championship level consistently this year. And not just that but they have been winning at these events as well. It's not like they are directly going for the Asian Games. They have their own set of experiences now. That will definitely help them and the team.

"Avneet has won a bronze medal at World Cup Stage 2 to go with her gold at the World University Games. (Aditi and Parneet) are doing extremely well. They are at the junior and the cadet level but still performing best for the senior team. Not only that, they are also winning the medals. We want the new archers to come and be part of archery to take it forward in India," Jyothi notes.

Before leaving for Hangzhou, the entire squad is preparing at the SAI's National Center for Excellence in Sonepat. And Jyothi is grateful for their support on and off the archery field. "SAI has helped a lot not just for archers but other sports, too. I have been practicing at the Sonepat facility for the longest time because it has some of the best facilities. With the Asian Games in mind, they also appointed a foreign coach, Sergio Pagni, for us. That has helped us a lot. With many SAI schemes, a lot of young athletes are getting the opportunity to perform better."

With compound archery not being part of the Olympics yet, outside of the events organised by World Archery, Asian Games is probably one of the biggest challenges for Jyothi and the archers. Even with all the pressure, she has her mantra decided for herself. "I want to concentrate on my shooting. If I shoot well, arrows will automatically hit better. I aim to give my best at the Asian Games, and not have regrets later about not performing to my best," she added. After clinching a bronze in 2014 and a silver in the 2018 edition of the Asian Games, Jyothi Surekha Vennam is all set to finally bring gold back home.

Almighty answers coach's prayers as Tilak makes one-day debut

FIROZ MIRZA @ Colombo

AT 1:45pm on Friday, coach Salam Bayash was about to leave Legala Sports Academy in Lingampally, Hyderabad for a nearby mosque to offer prayers when his phone started ringing. The call made the coach grin from ear to ear as the caller was his protege Tilak Varma.

"He called me last evening as well and today (Friday). That has been the custom ever since he started playing age-group cricket (under-14). On both occasions, he told me that there is a high chance of him making his ODI debut. I knew the time has come for the ODI debut and advised him to make most of the opportunity he is getting and focus on his game without thinking much of the position he is batting at," coach Salam told this daily from the academy, where his students had decided to watch India's Asia Cup Super Four match against Bangladesh. With the match being inconsequential, India made five changes. The left-hand batter had made his T20I debut against West Indies last month. He played all the five matches against the West Indies and was also in the playing XI when the Men in Blue played two T20Is against Ireland.

team announced earlier this month. The coach, however, said it will hardly matter as Tilak has just started and will get a lot of opportunities to represent the country at the biggest tournament. "We discussed his World Cup exclusion as well. But I asked him to keep patience as this is just the beginning. More World Cups will come and he will get an opportunity to be part of Indian teams." India rested Virat Kohli, Hardik Pandya, Kuldeep Yadav, Mohammed Siraj and Jasprit Bumrah. Tilak, Mohammed Shami, Shardul Thakur, Prasidh Krishna and Suryakumar Yadav came into the playing XI in place of them.

Salam's association with Tilak started when he was 10-11 years old. The day being a holiday, Salam reached the Abbas Stadium in Barkas to meet his fellow coaches. There he saw Tilak taking much older boys to the cleaners while playing with a tennis ball. "I asked him where he stays and then I went to meet his father, an electrician with a PSU. They are a middle-class family. The father expressed his inability to drop and pick Tilak to my academy which is 40km away. So I took the responsibility to pick him up in the morning at around 5AM. He was a kid then so he used to sleep while pillion riding with me. But after three-four months, I convinced his father to shift near to my academy and he agreed. This made it possible for Tilak to focus only on his cricket and not spend too much time and energy on travel."

Two seasons with Mumbai Indians at the IPL (2022 and 2023) polished Tilak further as he became an accomplished batter in the company of a world-class support staff including Sachin Tendulkar. "I asked him to pick the brains of these legends including Sachin sir. He did exactly the same. Since his junior days, he never shied away from working hard. He will follow the script and do whatever he has been asked to do. That habit has been helping him a lot," the coach had told this daily before the Asia Cup.

India's Shubman Gill reacts after reaching his century on Friday | AFP

Gill's ton in vain as B'desh win by six runs vs India

ENS @ Colombo

INDIA lost their final Super Four contest of the ongoing Asia Cup against Bangladesh by six runs in Colombo on Friday. Given that they were guaranteed to face Sri Lanka during Sunday's final in the same venue, India made five changes. Tilak Varma, 20, was handed an ODI debut.

Virat Kohli and Jasprit Bumrah were rested. Their absence was felt as Bangladesh, after being asked to bat first, posted a respectable 265/8 in their 50 overs. In reply, India lost wickets at regular intervals. Shubman Gill was in his elements as he scored 121 (8x4s; 5x6s) off 133 balls to keep India in hunt. Axar Patel hit 42 to make it a thrilling finish. However, his dismissal led to India's demise as they fell short of the target by six runs. Brief scores: Bangladesh 265/8 in 50 ovs (Shakib 80, Towhid 54; Shardul 3/65) bt India 259 in 49.5 ovs (Gill 121).

Jhingan and more added to India squad

VISHNU PRASAD @ Bengaluru

EARLIER this week, the New Zealand cricket board grabbed a lot of attention with their World Cup team announcement - the players were announced by their respective spouses or kids. The All India Football Federation though seems to have come up with an even more innovative way to announce a team. By repeatedly changing the announcement. Hopefully, things will settle down and focus will be on the games now.

The AIFF first announced a team for the Asian Games on August 1, presumably the squad that coach Igor Stimac wanted. Then, on Thursday, they announced a completely new 17-member squad, retaining only nine players from the original squad. Just three hours later, they amended that squad, adding Deepak Tangri's name to it. Then on Friday night, with just hours left for the deadline to submit a final squad, they added Sandesh Jhingan, Chinglensana Singh and Lalchungnunga to the list. But even that's not final. If Naorem Mahesh Singh passes a medical, he too will head to Hangzhou. The clubs are now willing to release these players because some Indian Super League matches will get postponed.

The confusion regarding the team was accentuated when the sports ministry released its final approved list of Asian Games athletes on Friday. That list had 22 names including stars like Jhingan, goalkeeper Gurpreet Singh Sandhu and Suresh Singh Wangjam (both not part of the final list). The same ministry list said that six players were to be replaced — among them were goalkeeper Dheeraj Singh and forward Rohit Danu. However, in the final list, they both feature. Vishal Yadav, another goalkeeper was added late, to make it a 22-member squad from the 17 AIFF had announced earlier. It's worth keeping in mind that India's first match against China is on Tuesday. For reference, South Korea, favourites for a third straight Asian Games gold, announced their final squad in mid-July and has already played a couple of preparatory friendlies with the Chinese Asian games team in China to get a feel of the conditions. And they had to negotiate with clubs from five different countries to get players released.

It's not as if the AIFF and the ISL clubs did not know the Asian Games was happening. While it is true that the government's policy to allow only teams in Asia's top eight cast doubt over India's participation in the Asiad, there is enough indications to suggest that the event was always in the AIFF's plans. AIFF president Kalyan Chaubey, while congratulating PT Usha on her election as IOA president, made reference to Asian Games participation. A calendar released by the AIFF in the beginning of the year, had time set aside for the Games.

The question then arises as to why AIFF did not work with the stakeholders earlier to avoid this mess. If FSDL could be persuaded to postpone ISL matches on Friday night, then they could have been persuaded one month earlier. If the South Korean federation can get clubs in Germany, France and Belgium to release players, the AIFF too should have persuaded their own clubs.

After the announcement, coach Igor Stimac tried to strike an upbeat note. "It's a wonderful development that some experienced players have been added to the Asian Games squad, who will certainly help the cause of the team," he said. "I'm thankful to FSDL and AIFF for making it happen. Whoever represents India, together we will be honoured to defend the flag."

Japan is now in a position to beat top European teams because they announced a 100-year plan in the 1990s and stuck to it. India, meanwhile, is struggling to finalise plans for a tournament that starts in five days. Every four years, the entire country sits up and asks 'why can't a nation of 1.5 billion people qualify for the World Cup?'. Well, this is why!

TYPES OF HYDROGEN

Grey hydrogen is made via coal or lignite gasification while Blue is made via natural gas or coal gasification combined with carbon capture storage

CHALLENGES AND OPPORTUNITIES IN PRODUCING

VIVEK BHOOMI & GANESH NAGARAJAN
@ Hyderabad/ Chennai

SHORTLY after setting emission standards for the production of green hydrogen in India a few weeks ago, the Centre indicated its intention to make the fuel mandatory for a clutch of industries. In other words, it meant business though its technology in the country is still in its nascent stage.

Quick transition to clean fuels is imperative if we are to stay within the 1.5°C cap of global warming as compared to the pre-industrial age. The country is betting on its scientists and captains of industry to take the technological leap of faith to achieve the goal early.

Green hydrogen is the production of the combustible gas through various means, including electrolysis of water, using renewable energy like solar power. The source of energy for production determines whether it is green, gray, blue, brown, yellow or pink hydrogen. Green hydrogen is a product of a clean energy source. The downside of electrolysis is that it a water guzzler.

Any plant that produces green hydrogen must have an emission threshold of 2 kg CO_2 equivalent per kg of hydrogen on a 12-month average, the government had stipulated.

The new and renewable energy ministry plans to seek the Union Cabinet's approval for a mandate to at least partially use green hydrogen for manufacture by different industry segments like petroleum, steel and fertilisers. But as Tata Steel's global CEO & MD T V Narendran said recently, there is no silver bullet for green transition in hard-to-abate sectors, including steel. It's a complex challenge that needs government support, he added.

The fast-tracking of green hydrogen projects comes at a time when India expects hydrogen demand to jump five-fold to 28 million tonnes by 2050. At present, its cost of production is steep. But when renewable energy costs come down by and by, that of producing green hydrogen could drop by 50%.

The National Green Hydrogen Mission has an outlay of ₹19,744 crore to make India a global hub for production, usage and export of green hydrogen and its derivatives by 2030. Almost all institutes with research labs in the country have at least one green hydrogen project running. Some pilot projects are already producing results.

The recent G20 leaders' declaration agreed to support the acceleration of production, utilisation and the development of transparent and resilient global markets for hydrogen produced from zero and low-emission technologies and its derivatives such as ammonia. Besides, the ambitious India-Middle East-Europe Economic Corridor envisages to transport green hydrogen for trade as well. The government believes that embracing green hydrogen will help the nation reduce at least ₹1 lakh crore worth of fossil fuel imports and nearly 50 million tonnes per annum of carbon dioxide emissions by 2030. India's clean fuel quest has already drawn corporate biggies such as Reliance, Adani, Tatas, NTPC, GAIL, IOC and L&T into the green hydrogen space.

It, however, has its own sets of challenges because storage and transportation of hydrogen have traditionally been difficult due to its flammability and low density. A recent report of the International Renewable Energy Agency on 'global hydrogen trade to meet the 1.5° Celsius climate goal' found that countries like China and India are best suited for its production at low cost. In contrast, the potential for green hydrogen production in countries like Japan and South Korea is limited due to lack of land. As much as 91% of land in Japan and 87% in South Korea can't be used for hydrogen production.

The Levelised Cost of Hydrogen (LCOH) is the ratio between the total system cost (capital expenditure and operational cost) and the total hydrogen production. LCOH in India by 2050 was estimated around $0.75/ KgH_2 in the most optimistic scenario and around $1.35/ KgH_2 in the pessimistic scenario. It is estimated that in the future, green hydrogen production could reach levels of almost $ 0.65/KgH2 for the best locations in the most optimistic scenario.

While India has immense potential, experts feel the economic feasibility, stability of the technology to prevent leakage of hydrogen and its sustainability, are still areas that haven't been either proven or established yet. According to IIT Madras Prof Sarit Kumar Das, "we need to develop devices that will use hydrogen. But the hydrogen effort in the country is mostly in the laboratory stage. There is always a gap between the lab level and commercialisation." From the lab it has to go to prototype, which is not happening quickly enough, he points out. "If you are thinking of putting a hydrogen engine in a car, it would need hydrogen storage, which could be dangerous. For, hydrogen with 5% oxygen forms an explosive mixture. Besides, if a hydrogen leak results in a fire, you cannot even see it because hydrogen flames are near-invisible," says Prof Das.

Dr Donthi Narasimha Reddy, who is a public policy expert on energy, says capturing hydrogen is not easy, as leakage has been an issue. There are many technological challenges, for which a lot of research needs to be done.

Underlining that technological capacity is needed for capturing and utilising hydrogen at various stages, he points out that its impact assessment for large scale production hasn't been done yet.

"If we merely change the source of fuel it won't solve the problem. At present, we are replacing fossil fuels with electric vehicles. Though it may bring down pollution, the overall impact on the Earth's resource consumption will remain unchanged. We need to change transportation. Changing the material causing pollution is needed," Dr Reddy opines. Talking about the US and Europe where hydrogen-powered vehicles are still in their initial stages, he says even the US is cautious, as its economical feasibility hasn't been established.

SOLAR GEOENGINEERING ON POLICY TABLE, EXPERTS WARN OF MORE HARM

SV KRISHNA CHAITANYA @ Chennai

ON December 12, 2015, the United Nations Climate Change Conference of the Parties (COP21) arrived at a legally binding international treaty to limit the global temperature rise to 1.5°C above pre-industrial levels. Eight years later, the global temperature has already risen by about 1.2° and the UN Environment Programme warns that current policies will lead to a 2.6° temperature rise by the end of the century—called climate overshoot.

Any overshoot, even if temporary, can be catastrophic leading to loss of nearly all coral reefs, reduction of global crop yields and rising sea levels. Some changes could also be irreversible like the Antarctic ice sheet melt. Climate scientists say risk to biodiversity from temperature overshoot will "arrive suddenly, but decrease only gradually". There is evidence suggesting that patterns of atmospheric circulation known as Hadley cells—which are already changing, leading to drier weather in the subtropics—may not return to their original state, even if carbon dioxide levels go down again.

But, the question is whether solar geoengineering or Solar Radiation Modification (SRM) technologies, which reflect sunlight back to space, are a viable solution to reduce temperatures? The technologies that are talked about are space-based reflectors, stratospheric aerosol injection, cirrus cloud thinning and marine cloud brightening.

Recently, the White House Office of Science and Technology Policy released a report showing keen interest in SRM tech. Now, the Climate Overshoot Commission, an independent body, has come out with its first report recommending solar geoengineering. Such an interest in solar geoengineering is being viewed sceptically by researchers due to several 'unknown risks' associated with these technologies. In the report, the Commission said: "If it were used at large scale, SRM would reduce temperatures within a few years and would have global effects." It suggested more research and deliberations.

Aarti Khosla, founder of the think tank Climate Trends, told TNIE: "Technological fixes like solar geoengineering have limited applicability, and may discourage countries from pursuing emissions reductions by providing false promises." She said risks associated with solar engineering have led to a moratorium on climate-related geoengineering under the Convention on Biological Diversity.

The need for tight governance was underscored earlier this year, when in a seemingly cynical move, a US startup temporarily relocated operations to Mexico where it released sulphur particles in a rogue experiment that brought an ensuing ban from the country. There are also concerns that Global South countries like India more broadly could be used as testing grounds for SRM technologies, as we already see patterns of Global North and wealthy extractive nations seeking to offshore their emissions to the Global South. Prakash Kashwan, who advocates global climate governance at Brandeis University, said: "It is bit ironical that the report flags potential for transboundary harms of solar geoengineering outdoor research but pays little attention to the potential for severe disruption of monsoons that are the main source of drinking water and irrigation critical to the lives and livelihoods of at least a billion people in South Asia, South-east Asia, and Eastern Africa."

Prof Joeri Rogelj from Imperial College London says, "The idea that we can easily control climate change in an overshoot scenario should be viewed extremely sceptically. The unknowns of such a world means that there are no safe bets." However, in their defence, Frances Beinecke, President Emerita, and member of the overshoot commission said the Commission's mandate was to examine the different options under consideration for avoiding overshoot. "Even as we explored the various methods (SRM) outlined in the report, it became crystal clear that the only effective means to avoid overshoot is to act now to cut emissions and phase out fossil fuels."

Football coach Des Buckingham, who led Mumbai City FC to their second title in the Indian Super League earlier this year, was recently in the city, and shares with CE the secret behind Mumbai FC's record breaking title, and India's chances of qualifying for the the 2026 FIFA World Cup

SCORING OVER

DESE GOWDA

OVER the course of the 2022-23 season of Indian Super League, Mumbai FC went on a dominant streak, amassing more points and goals than any other team in the league's history to secure their second League Winners' Shield. Yet the man who is largely credited for that success, England-based football coach Des Buckingham is still relatively young at 38.

Long associated with City Football Group, that administers notable football clubs worldwide – Manchester City FC, New York City FC, and Mumbai City FC – Buckingham has had a decades-long career working with clubs across England, and New Zealand, before his arrival to Mumbai in 2021. Recently in Bengaluru, Buckingham credits his mega success to the massive amount of support he has received wherever he has worked.

"I think I'm still the youngest coach in the league, and probably the youngest coach to win the shields. But I've been coaching for 22 years, so it's not entirely new. But the biggest thing has been the heavy support that I've received from all the people I've worked with – be it in England, or New Zealand, where I worked with both club teams and the national team. And that support has continued even after coming to Mumbai FC," says Buckingham, whose secret behind success is creating a conducive and open work environment where players, staff, and stakeholders feel at home. "My approach in these high-performing environments has been to get the environment and the culture right. You need people, not just players, to be themselves, and to be able to express who they are and what they want to do. Secondly, having a clear direction about where you want to go and involving all the people at the team and figuring a way to work together is key," explains Buckingham.

Despite having previously worked in four different countries throughout his career, Buckingham faced challenges when he first arrived in Mumbai. "The biggest problem is the lack of separation between work and life. It's different from any other football environment I've been in before. Normally you arrive at your base, you work, train, do all the sessions, and at the end of the day, you go home. But here, that's not the case, the challenge is to ensure separation, because you need that work-life balance."

Football has been gaining momentum over the last few years India, amidst cricket's continued dominance. With the 2026 FIFA World Cup on the horizon, what does Buckingham think of India's chances at qualifying for the World Cup? "The development of football in this country in the last four years has allowed for more games, which allows for more training and development opportunities. Given where the game is now, we have players in this country who are more than capable of competing. That has certainly been demonstrated the last 12 months across club football and international football. So we're in exciting times," he concludes.

FIT BIT

VIRABHADRASANA III HASTA GARUDASANA
(WARRIOR POSE III EAGLE ARMS)

This pose stimulates the Sahasrara (Crown) Chakra, thereby providing a connection to the universe and with the divine. It brings serenity and joy. It reduces anxiety by calming the mind and helps to improve memory and concentration.

STEPS

- First start in Tadasana (Mountain Pose).
- Inhale and keep your legs 4 to 5 feet apart.
- Exhale and turn the right and left feet 90 degrees.
- Bend the right knee until your thigh becomes parallel to the floor and perpendicular to your shin. The knee must be aligned right over your heel, ensuring it doesn't extend beyond the heel.
- Exhale and bend your trunk forward. Join your palms together, keeping your arms straight. Hold this position for two breaths.
- Slowly shift the weight of your body onto your right leg and simultaneously raise your left leg (keeping it straight). The left knee must face downward, with you looking either straight or down.
- The whole body except the right leg becomes parallel to the floor in the final position of Warrior III. Once balanced, make sure one arm is crossed above the other, forming Garudasana.
- Stay in the pose for 5 to 30 seconds.
- To release the pose, exhale and lower the left leg back onto the floor, along with bending the right leg.
- Practice again from the other side.
- Finally, release the pose and relax.

BENEFITS

- Improves the focus, balance and stability.
- Strengthens your shoulders, arms, legs, ankles and back.
- Helps to widen your hips, chest, and lungs.
- Helps in the circulation and respiration processes.
- Stretches your arms, legs, shoulders, neck, belly, groins, and ankles.
- Helps in energising the body.
- This reduces the stubborn fat in the hips.
- Useful for people suffering from sciatica.
- Enhances the blood circulation in the body.
- Stimulates the abdominal organs and aids in digestion.
- Builds stamina, and develops a sense of balance and coordination.

LIMITATIONS

If you suffer from heart problems, severe neck or shoulder pain, knee pain, high blood pressure or recent chronic illness and spinal ailments, avoid this.

Sheeba and Roshni Razdan with Shibu Arakkal

SOME weeks pass by in a blur of non-activity which keeps me content, as my usually over active 'brain-chatter' is silent. Bengaluru has changed. Sometimes I feel for the better but, mostly for the worse. I must make a disclaimer that this is my POV.

No, I haven't turned geriatric (I wonder if that is a politically-correct term to use now!) and I do think that change is a constant and is very vital to replenish and refurbish a society. But a certain attitude has infiltrated into all rungs of relationships and conversations that seem to insinuate that there is some ulterior motive in one's actions. Despite these little bumps I proceeded to have a capital time secure in the knowledge 'Je sais qui je suis' loosely translated from my fave language French, which says: I know who I am!

Riyaaz Amlani, CEO of Impresario Entertainment & Hospitality has been a dear friend for ages, so when they opened up his pet project, 'The Drawing Room' above the present Smoke-House Deli in Indiranagar, I hot-footed it there with my other-half. Beautifully done up in a lazily languid style, The Drawing Room boasted of some fabulous and innovative cocktails with Riyaaz's signature style of serving good food with the choicest ambrosia. The gathering was intimate and discerning. A good mix of hospitality with the right people is slowly becoming a judicious style of hosting soirees in Bengaluru.

Yusuf Arakkal, the multiple award winning artist was loved and respected in the auld-Bangalore circuit. Arakkal's paintings were singularly expressionistic in style, and showed his deep concern for a materialistic driven society that marginalised ordinary people. His stark works epitomised by brooding faces with largely empty expanses, mesmerised us for years. His son Shibu, was magnanimous enough to let us get a 'dekko' of some of the master's works from his private collection. Virender Razdan, another 'auld' Bangalorean put together a small soiree followed by a stupendous lunch at Falak, at The Leela Bharitya City. The afternoon turned out to be perfect yet again, as friends from way back when and collectors of Arakkal's art, traded stories and conversations with Shibu and Arakkal's wife Sara as the sun set majestically over the Nandi hills. Viru and Sheeba were perfect hosts and my friend Viru lived up to his fond nomenclature of being our local Aishwarya Rai with nary a hair out of place!

Sometimes I feel blessed at the amount of friends I have with no agendas (like using each other) on their minds. We have worked long and hard at our careers and are successful in our own right. My young friend Nikhil Agarwal from Mumbai, is a case in point. A sommelier and CEO of 'All Things Nice', he brought down some fantastic wines from the warmer regions of Spain and paired it with some exceptional Franco-Italian cuisine at the premiere dining-spot in namma-ooru, Le Cirque, Leela Palace. Again the ambiance was subtle and elegant. Well informed paying diners dotted the room and paid rapt attention to the charming Spaniard, Ivan Aquino, who animatedly tutored us on the various vintages of the wine served.

I love that namma ooru is changing. We have to be cautious that we shall be judged by what we finish, not what we start.

VARALAXMI SARATHKUMAR A PART OF SUDEEP'S MAX?

CE FEATURES

The multilingual film, directed by Vijay Karthikeyan, is currently in production.

SUDEEP is currently occupied with the filming of Max, which marks Vijay Karthikeyan's directorial debut. Some on-set pictures hinted at the cast, including Samyuktha Hornad, Sukratha Wagle, and Anirudh Bhat among other actors. The movie's shooting is in full swing, and there's speculation that Varalaxmi Sarathkumar is part of the principal cast. Our source suggests that the actor has finished shooting crucial scenes, and her inclusion will be officially revealed later.

Sudeep and Varalaxmi have previously appeared together in Maanikya, which was the latter's Kannada debut. Max will mark their second collaboration.

The makers of Max generated excitement with the title teaser, which was released on Sudeep's birthday.

Max, produced by V Creations, has Shivakumar as the art director, Ajaneesh B Loknath as the music director, and Shekar Chandra as the cinematographer. Sudeep, in addition to his work on Max, is preparing to host Bigg Boss Season 10 Kannada, and the team has recently revealed a promo. Beyond this, the multilingual actor has a project with director Cheran, and Billa Ranga Baashaa with director Anup Bhandari. Additionally, he is returning to the director's chair with a film backed by KRG Studios.

Meghana Raj and Prajwal Devaraj shine in unraveling the intrigue of Tatsama Tadbhava

A SHARADHAA

THE conclusion of Tatsama Tadbhava lingered in my mind, and the crux made me think about how a complex situation might just be two facets of the same coin. However, there's a twist in the tale.

Vishal Atreya's debut film features a talented cast and he has skilfully moulded them into perfect characters that drive the story forward. What sets apart this crime thriller, which is more conversation-based, is its departure from the usual whodunit approach, instead focusing on the why and how behind the actions.

The film is divided into five intriguing segments. The first one kicks off with a mystery involving 'Missing Pieces' beginning on an emotional note. Nidhi (Mahati), who has just turned 18, is intensely curious about her mother Arika's (Meghana Raj Sarja) behaviour. She becomes concerned, and after pestering her grandfather (Nagabharana), she receives a case folder, which sets the stage for a mother's journey into the past.

In the subsequent segment titled 'Lost and Found' Arika seeks help at a police station regarding her 'missing husband.' Here, we meet police officer Arvind Ashwathama (Prajwal Devaraj), who takes charge of the case. As the investigation progresses, a chilling discovery is made when they find a body in the basement of Arika's house.

Next comes a suspenseful game of 'Hide and Seek' during which Arika shares her side of the story. She discloses having a heated argument with her husband, leading to her storming out in anger. Upon her return, she is met with an unlocked door and her husband, Sanjay, is nowhere to be found. This twist casts doubts on Arika's true intentions, whether she is genuinely worried or becomes a suspect, sparking a game of 'Truth and Dare' involving other characters.

As the story unravels, along with Arika, a few people associated with Sanjay face a barrage of intriguing inquiries, paving the way for the 'Confessions' chapter, which introduces a cameo into the mix. What appears as a straightforward case might, in fact, hold a wide-ranging outcome, teasing the possibility of two parallel tales unfolding in the end. One involves cop Arvind Ashwathama embarking on a fresh case, while the other hints at Arika's next move.

Tatsama Tadbhava marks Meghana Raj Sarja's return to the silver screen and Pannaga Bharana's debut production.

TATSAMA TADBHAVA
Director: Vishal Atreya
Cast: Meghana Raj Sarja, Prajwal Devaraj, Nagabharana, Mahati, Aravind Iyer, and Balaji Manohar

RATING 3/5

This ensemble cast, though limited in space, delivers their best.

While crime stories often revolve around murder investigations, Vishal's unique approach intricately unravels the case with a multitude of mind games, exposing the killer's motives. He refreshingly steps away from the usual action-packed clichés, immersing us in conversation-based interrogation while dissecting the case's anatomy and the complexity of its characters, leaving us eagerly hooked to unearth the elusive culprit.

The director also delves into the depths of human psychology and moral ambiguity, blurring the line between truth and deception, keeping us eager for a thrilling and uncertain resolution. Moreover, the ability to captivate its audience through dialogue-driven scenes sets it apart.

Meghana Raj Sarja shines as Arika showcasing the multifaceted dimensions of her character. Prajwal Devaraj's portrayal of Arvind Ashwathama, especially in his exchanges with Arika, vividly brings his character to life. The director adds a clever twist through his character by incorporating a police officer's culinary skills to solve his case, which, at times, prove to be a smart move. Both have distinguished themselves with their portrayals of their respective characters, which, when combined, form the backbone of Vishal's intricately woven narrative, and their performances are instrumental in anchoring the essence of the story with support coming from Balaji Manohar, Arvind Iyer, Giriji Lokesh, Varun, Yathnal, and few others, The music and cinematography contribute significantly to enhancing character portrayals.

Nevertheless, while a few minor loopholes may exist, they merely serve as minute blemishes on an otherwise intelligent canvas. For those searching for an innovative, dialogue-rich perspective on crime thrillers, Tatsama Tadbhava will be an interesting choice.

Vinod Prabhakar's Fighter set for an Oct release

CE FEATURES

THE makers of Fighter are gearing up for the release of the Vinod Prabhakar starrer, which is written and directed by Nuthan Umesh. With the action-packed teaser gaining a lot of appreciation, team Fighter also released one song, and it has caught attention of the listeners.

Composed by Gurukiran, the first song is titled I Wanna Follow You... Written by Kavi Raj, and choreographed by Mohan, the song is a romantic number shot in various picturesque locations. "This is a family entertainment film. We have conveyed the message that anything can be achieved through unity and discipline. Along with that, there is also a strong element of emotion. As a team, we have spared no effort in making this film," says Vinod Prabhakar.

The film is bankrolled by Somashekar Kattigenahalli's Akash Enterprises banner and features Pavana and Lekha Chandra as female leads. It also stars Sharath Lohithashva, Nirosha, and Prathap Kuri, among others. The film is currently in the final phase of post-production work, and the makers are aiming for an October release.

13 UNVEILS A SUSPENSEFUL TALE OF UNITY AND HOPE

A SHARADHAA

WHAT'S the deal with the number 13's bad luck reputation? It's actually quite fascinating, with all sorts of theories swirling around this digit for ages. While it's universally accepted that 13 is an unlucky number, it's also considered a bit of a myth. Director Narendra Baboo takes this captivating concept and weaves it into his film 13, adding an extra layer of curiosity and wonder.

First off, there's a pivotal scene in 13 that instantly reminded me of a key plot point in Ravichandran's Drishyam. But setting that aside, 13 is a family drama sprinkled with suspense. What truly stands out, though, is the harmony between a middle-class couple from different religions. Set in a quaint village, Mohankumar (Raghavendra Rajkumar), a retired cop and a Hindu, runs a scrap shop and manages a tea stall along with his wife, Saira Banu, (Shruti) a Muslim who is supportive of her husband. Despite financial struggles, the couple paints a heartwarming picture of simple happiness, with Mohankumar adoring everything about his wife. However, life takes a turn when they stumble upon an unmarked bag filled with cash mysteriously tied to the number 13. The big question: will this number change their lives for better or worse? It leaves us in suspense, hinting at an answer in part 2.

Suspense thrillers are often familiar territory, but this director impressively weaves a tale of communal harmony between a couple from different religious backgrounds. It's a thought-provoking reminder that people, regardless of their faith and traditions, can coexist peacefully. At times, it almost feels like this kind of harmony is only possible among ordinary folks who simply want to live in a world filled with basic humanity, a theme portrayed throughout the story. Coming back to 13, in this case, the number, though called lucky, also puts them in difficult situations and acts as a protector.

Raghavendra Rajkumar delivers his lines with precision, while Shruti, a middle-aged woman, adds a delightful, bubbly, and expressive touch to her character. Her effortless blend of Kannada and Urdu in her dialogue delivery is natural. Pramod Shetty, portraying a police officer, brings his own unique traits to the table, and it'll be interesting to see how he, along with the lead characters, develops in part 2.

RATING 2.5/5

The supporting cast comes and goes without making a significant impact. There's not much to say about the music and cinematography; it's serviceable but not particularly noteworthy.

13 makes for a one-time watch as it brings together two veteran actors, Raghavendra Rajkumar and Shruti, on the big screen after 26 years. Interestingly, the content has a connection to their first film. We hope that part 2 comes with more intriguing twists and turns. More importantly, it is better; the suspense could have concluded in one film. It remains to be seen whether the audience will maintain the same interest by the time the makers unveil the next chapter.

Kay Kay Menon anchors the umpteenth retelling of a familiar story

AVINASH RAMACHANDRAN

NOW, who is the protagonist of Bambai Meri Jaan? Is it the conscientious father? Is it the boy who grows up to be the antithesis of his father and becomes the Baadshah of the Bambai underworld? Is it the mother who is conflicted about choosing between her mental peace and what is right for her child? Is it the sister who believes revenge is a dish best served... immediately? Now, we have seen some 736 reiterations of how the son of a police officer became Public Enemy No 1 in India. Bambai Meri Jaan is yet another retelling of the Dawood story and is based on Hussain Zaidi's best-selling book, Dongri to Dubai. Just like the book, the series is about Dawood's rise but also about the other players in the game who painted the city of Mumbai red.

The series starts off by chronicling the life of Ismail Kadri (a brilliant Kay Kay Menon), a no-nonsense cop, who is entrusted with the task of taking down the Bambai mafia headed by Haji (a chillingly effective Saurabh Sachdeva), Azeem Pathan (Nawab Shah), and Anna Mudaliar (Dinesh Prabhakar). While the names have been changed, there are no points for guessing who these people are. Ismail's son Dara, the hope of the family, grows up to be Dawood... I mean, Dawood-ish after a series of incidents forces Ismail to slip into the wrong side of the law. These portions are the most effective of the series because it is one part of this oft-retold story that is not often retold. We see what made the livewire Ismail become a weary workhorse. Although there is no sympathy generated for why Dara becomes the dreaded gangster, the fingers are pointed at the father. However, the childhood scenes with Dara, and his brothers Saadiq and Ajji, point at them turning to the murky world of crime without much prodding. In a way, the writers of Bambai Meri Jaan don't really paint Dara as a victim of his circumstances, but as someone who clearly wanted to do what he wanted to do.

With a father telling the story of how his decisions turned Mumbai upside down, it is a fascinating approach to an old tale. We see his carefully constructed world crumbling down as Dara goes up against the three musketeers of the Underworld — Haji, Pathan, and Anna — and the violence that ensues is gratuitous to a fault. The intensity of the blood and gore feels more like violence for the sake of it because we are not really invested in the emotional arcs of these characters. Not for a moment do we really care about anyone except Dara and Co.

The dialogues are too contrived to really register as a stern exchange between warring members. There is no old-world charm in these scenes. In fact, there is hardly any charm in the latter portions of the series, it is all just one shootout after another, and it gets a bit tiresome after a while. The primary reason for this exhaustion is that things fall into place much too easily for Dara and his D Company. On the other hand, points to the way the writers have sketched the characters of Ismail's wife Sakina (Niveditha Bhattacharya), and their only daughter Habiba (Kritika Kamra). Even as the series boasts of such interesting aspects, it is also burdened by having to tie every loose knot and misses out on fleshing out the important players like the cops. It acts as a major dampener because, without a worthy adversary, Dara just feels like a rebel with no cause. Also, the Bambai we see in the series doesn't always have a sense of character.

The series oscillates between gradual world-building and meticulously crafting characters to sudden exposition and last-minute addition of characters meant for season 2. What really holds these ends together is the strong performances of the principal characters. It is impressive how Kay Kay Menon's transition from the swashbuckling cop to a defeated family man is excellent, and the scene where he breaks down after understanding his world will never be the same again is the hallmark of a really powerful performer. Avinash Tiwary gets to brood and glower a lot but isn't given enough to really chew on as Dara.

As more characters get introduced, and killings happen with alarming consistency and increasing intensity, the stage is set for phase 2 of the D Company as Dara and Co set their sights on The Gulf Tiger. We know what all happened when the D company supremo left the country. We know what happened to the ones who got left behind. We know how allies became enemies. Season 2 isn't exactly going to say anything new. But I will return for the same, and it is not just because of the brilliant performers, but because... the story of the man who remains elusive is a fascinating fable for the ages.
